SOVIET TWITS JAPAN

HISHIKARI DOCUMENT REVELATIONS

MOSCOW'S MOOD

Moscow, Oct. 12. Bitterness is increasing in Russia over Japan's attitude regarding the Soviet disclosures contained in the publication of the Hishikari documents.

Izvestia says that the sharp Japanese reaction to the revelations goes to show the complete embarrassment felt in interested circles.

Pravda asserts that the clumsy attempts of the Japanese imperialists to avoid the responsibility by subterfuges and loud threats, are ridiculous.

C.E.R. CHAOS.

M. Rudy, the Soviet manager of the Chinese Eastern Railway, has notified the Railway Board of certain actions by the Manchurian assistant manager, Mr. Chian Minchie, which he asserts are illegal.

He refers specially to the revocation of the order appointing a Soviet citizen, M. Letvitsky, as chief of the depot at Manchuli on the Siberia-Manchurian frontier. It is alleged that a nominee of the Manchurian party was placed in M. Letvitsky's stead after his arrest.

M. RUDY'S DEMANDS.

M. Rudy declares that the assistant manager is deliberately disorganising the working of the railway and he has requested the Board to take measures to protect the railway from police interference and to ensure its proper running.—Reuter.

FASCIST GROUP

PHILADELPHIA BUBBLE BURSTS

WONDERFUL SCHEME FOR MAKING PRESIDENT DICTATOR

KHAKI SHIRTS FOR SALE

Philadelphia, Oct. 12.

Philadelphia does not know whether to smile or feel indignant at the trick played upon a number of politically-minded citizens by an astute shirt salesman.

Great schemes were outlined by the gentleman, a man named "Art" Smith, who formed a so-called Fascist organisation.

The installation of President Roosevelt as America's Dictator, was the first plank in his platform.

The revelations were made following the arrest of twenty-seven members of the "Khaki Shirts," the pseudo-Fascist organisation, who were awaiting orders from their self-styled Commander-in-Chief to march on Washington with a Fascist army of a million and a half men and install the President as Dictator.

The city was startled by the arrests, but the Chief of Police later announced that the great scheme was merely a shirt-selling racket by Smith, who advised the members to buy their Khaki Shirts from him instead of in the open market. Needless to say, Smith has disappeared.—Reuter.

CURRENCY BATTLE GOES ON

Washington, Oct. 12.

Opposition to any unrestrained inflation of the currency was formally voiced at the American Federation of Labour Convention to-day.

Six hundred delegates unanimously approved the report of the committee warning against any currency action that would add additional unbearable burdens on the workers.

STRIKE SCOURGE.

While President Roosevelt's intervention is being sought to end the strike scourge, the task of reorganising the N.R.A. is proceeding apace, and conversations have been held between Messrs. Johnson, Wallace and Peek with a view to co-ordinating the methods of the N.R.A. and the farm administration.

Later, it is indicated, commerce and the departments of labour, justice and agriculture will share in the administration of the re-organisation.

MR. GREEN RE-ELECTED.

With the rejection by the Union of the Mine Workers' Association of the proposal to enlarge the Executive Council of the Federation of Labour, Mr. Green has survived the test of his leadership of the Federation of which he has been re-elected President.

Meanwhile the four basic industries of motion pictures, retailing, wholesaling and building are still without codes and General Johnson has extended the date whereby all industries must be brought under the code from November 1 to December 1.

GOLD HOARDERS.

Another drive against owners of gold who have failed to register their holdings is announced by Mr. Cummings, who asserts that criminal proceedings will be instigated against all hoarders with over $100, which limit is allowed under President Roosevelt's proclamation.—Reuter.

PRESIDENT'S WARNINGS.

New phases of America's war on the depression cover a wide field of activity and include a sharp Presidential warning to recalcitrant industrialists and noisy labour leaders, the formation of a new agricultural credit organisation and the compilation of the final report of the State Department on the possibilities, economic as well as political of Russian recognition.

The President's warning made it plain that the recovery programme is not to be eased and that some employers of labour will be "lashed and corralled" if necessary.

Capital and Labour are both warned by the President that their troubles must be placed in the background until the fight against depression is won.

"This is no time to seek special privileges and advantages."

LABOUR HOTHEADS.

He also referred to the labour "hotheads who think results can be gained by noise and violence," and said they should join the majority of working people who were helping to pull the country out of its trouble.

The President took occasion to warn industrialists "who think in terms of dollars and cents instead of human lives."

"Most of our employers realise the dangers of the situation that confronts the country but a few (Continued on Page 7.)"

SWATOW TENSION

JAPANESE "RAID" ALLEGED

GUNBOAT APPEARS ON SCENE

Canton, Oct. 12.

The attention of the Canton government has been called by the Swatow military authorities to tension which has arisen there following "serious incident" in connexion with a Japanese "raid" on the anti-Japanese Boycott Society Headquarters at Swatow.

The Chinese allege that Japanese and Formosans raided the Society to rescue a big consignment of Japanese goods consisting of sharks fins.

It is believed that Kuomintang agitation backing up the pickets led the Japanese to summon a gunboat which has now arrived.

The Mayor protested to the Japanese Consul yesterday in connexion with the raid but he was assured by the Japanese consular representative that only two Japanese took part in the visit and that no force was used.

PROSPEROUS INDUSTRY

THE BRITISH MOTOR CAR

FINE DISPLAY AT OLYMPIA

London, Oct. 12.

Prince George to-day opened the 27th International Motor Show at Olympia, and in company with King Alfonso, made a tour of inspection of the 400 cars on exhibition.

Cars from five European continental countries, and Canada, and United States are exhibited, but British cars predominate. Of the fifty different makes shown 29 are British, 18 continental and eight American.

The Show represents probably the widest range of cars ever brought together, and affords a comprehensive survey of the latest developments in engineering, practice and coachwork design. The prices are from 100 guineas to over £3,000.

PROSPEROUS & PROGRESSIVE.

The British motor industry has now become one of most prosperous and progressive of the major industries, and Prince George congratulated the manufacturers on the wonderful recovery achieved not only in the home market, but in an expanding degree in markets overseas.

To meet the growing home demand, production in the last twelve months has increased by 20 per cent., and the industry's export trade increased by 68 per cent.—British Wireless.

INTERPORT COLLAPSE

GOLFERS FAIL BADLY

LOSE ALL SIX SINGLES

Hongkong's interport golfers now in Manila had an astonishing experience yesterday at Calocan when they were defeated in all six singles matches against the Manila team.

The surprise is occasioned by the fact that the local side was regarded as the strongest ever sent to Manila and collapse was scarcely considered.

The players seem to have been defeated by unfavourable conditions. It was pouring with rain throughout the match and the course was practically waterlogged.

RESULT CERTAIN.

It seems impossible that Manila should fail to win the contest. They require only to half one of the matches in the four-ball games to-day to establish a margin of points. Both O. E. C. Marton and T. A. Pearce had unhappy experiences. The results were:

N.S. Wetherspoon beat O.E.C. Marton, 5 and 4.
Aplin beat T.A. Pearce, 5 and 4.
Captain A.V. Edie beat A.E. Lissaman, 2 and 1.
A.D. Gibbs beat A.K. Mackenzie, 2 and 1.
Mackay beat Commr. MacBean easily.
J.R.H. Mason beat C.C. Stark easily.

REVOLT

FORCE MARCHES ON BANGKOK

MARTIAL LAW DECLARED

FIGHTING NEAR CAPITAL

Bangkok, Oct. 12.

Martial Law has been proclaimed and fighting is proceeding between loyal troops and two up-country battalions, who seized the aerodrome at Donmaung, 13 kilometres from Bangkok.

At the moment the inhabitants of Bangkok are quiet, though it is impossible to foreshadow how events may develop.

PRINCE AS LEADER.

It is understood that Prince Bovaradej, a member of the Royal Family, is the leader of the force which is marching on the capital. He is believed to have a strong armed force under his command.

OFFICIAL PROCLAMATION.

As a result of the revolt, communications have been paralysed and a censorship has been established.

An official Government communique announces their intention to suppress the revolt and to restore order, enjoining the populace to continue their peaceful pursuits.

The communique assures the Foreign Legations that there will be no danger to foreign residents or to their property.—Reuter.

TIN RESTRICTION ON JAN. 1

PRODUCTION QUOTA BE INCREASED

London, Oct. 12.

The new international tin restriction agreement will come into force on the first of January next, learns the Financial Times from authoritative quarters in London.

Assuming that the formal agreement still to be obtained from the governments of the Federated Malay States, Netherlands, India, Bolivia and Nigeria, is given, the agreement will operate for three years.

The committee is expected in London for a meeting to authorise as from January 1, an increase in the basic quota of production from the current 33 1/3rd per cent. capacity to 40 per cent.

Should the consumption continue to be satisfactory, a further increase to at least 50 per cent. seems likely to be permitted from April 1.—Reuter.

VARIATION OF QUOTAS

TIN COMMITTEE TO MEET

The Hague, Oct. 12.

Steps are being taken to amend the present tin restrictions agreement in certain instances, following decisions of an unofficial meeting of the Tin Committee.

Details have not yet been divulged. They will be kept secret until after a meeting to be held in London on October 26, at which the question of changing the quotas will also be discussed.—Reuter.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE

New Bill Planned In Britain

London, Oct. 12. Parliament will reconvene on November 7, after the Summer recess.

A new unemployment insurance bill will be one of the first Government measures to be introduced and the Chancellor of the Exchequer, the Minister of Labour and the Minister of Health today met representatives of the Association of Municipal Corporations and the County Council Associations to discuss the details of the measure. The Government hopes that the prorogation of Parliament will be possible about November 17th and the new session will begin a few days later.—British Wireless.

FRIEND OF CHINA

SIR FREDERICK WHYTE'S APPOINTMENT

AGAIN ADVISER TO NANKING

Washington, Oct. 12.

It is announced by the Chinese Legation that Sir Frederick Whyte has accepted an appointment as Adviser to the Chinese National Government.

He held a similar appointment from 1920 to 1932.

Sir Frederick has been popular in Chinese circles ever since the international conference held in Honolulu in 1925 to consider questions relating to the Pacific.

MONTHS IN CHINA.

There he found favour with the delegates of the Chinese Nationalist Government, as he took a more favourable view of their cause than was generally held in Europe and America. In 1927 he came to China and spent some months here, acting, if rumour could be trusted, as an observer for Sir Austen Chamberlain, then Britain's Foreign Minister.

The Chinese Nationalists were strongly impressed by Sir Frederick Whyte's work in India and his sympathy with Nationalism. One section proposed him for the post of Inspector-General of Customs. This proposal was not adopted, but in March 1929, when he was again in China, it was announced that he had been appointed honorary adviser to the Chinese Government. He is an hon. LL.D. of Edinburgh, McGill and Michigan Universities and was one of the founders of "The New Europe" and joint editor. He has written "Asia in the Twentieth Century" and "China and Foreign Races."—Reuter.

Is Your's An Office Job?

Many office workers spend much long hours at their desks that they do not take enough exercise; indeed, they often are too tired to do so, for mental fatigue induces bodily fatigue. With insufficient exercise it is not long before measures are taken to counteract the trouble illness may follow, for in the congested food tract disease germs flourish.

To the office worker and others engaged on sedentary jobs Pinkettes are invaluable; they stimulate the liver and digestive organs, thereby correcting constipation, biliousness, flatulence, headaches, dizziness, and that tired feeling. Yet they are not habit-forming. Just a couple or three at night, occasionally are all you need. Pinkettes, the perfect little liver laxatives, of all chemists.

Paris Fills Need for That Extra Frock
To Wear on Unexpected Occasions

RESORT MODELS HAVE HINT OF FORMALITY BUT CUT IS COMFORTABLE

By Rosette Hargrove

Paris.—There is always room, even in the most carefully planned wardrobe, for that extra "light" frock that belongs to no particular category and yet comes in so handy in the most unexpected ways. The Parisian couturiers seem to sense this need and usually present, outside of the regular collec- tions, a small number of late holi- day frocks, or what they call resort models.

These resort models are differ- ent enough from beach or country dresses to make them stand out in a class by themselves. They have just the slightest hint of formality either in their fabric or in some detail, but their cut is easy and comfortable, as befits daytime holiday clothes. The skirts are rather longer than those of in- formal models and if they have no sleeves, the top of the arm is ade- quately covered. Most houses, however, favour some kind of sleeve for this sort of dress.

Jenny chose a beautiful shade of blue canvas-weave fabric for a resort dress for Madame Hug- uette Dufois, a famous Parisian actress, to wear at Aix-les-Bains. The yoke of the bodice, ties in a bow and so does the yoke to which the flared skirt is attached. A frill of white organdy is placed under the overlapping bodice yoke and serves the double purpose of covering the top of the arm and widening the shoulder line. A wide-brimmed hat of blue pique to match the dress is trimmed with a sapphire blue velvet ribbon bow.

Blue canvas-weave cotton fashions this dress created by Jenny. White organdie fashions the neck and arm frills. The blue pique straw is trimmed with sapphire-blue velvet ribbon bow.

Then there are the charming tailored embroidered, chiffon frocks that Chanel launched, which are just the thing for a lunch or informal tea-party in the country or at a roadside inn. These are cut on coat-dress lines, with skirts flaring gently at the hem, a tailored pocket on one hip. The touch of fantasy is found in the threaded neckline ending in a Shanghai-red knotted cap, or a loose tie and elbow sleeves with a sort of riving cuff attached.

Chanel does some very clever things with plain and striped lin- en, combining red-and-white or blue-and-white striped tole with the white. One specially attrac- tive model has a skirt made of six gores sections meeting chevron- wise at the seams with good in- serts of the plain fabric to give plenty of walking room. The low- part of the bodice is white and the upper part, forming a sleeve- less bolero effect, ties at the decol- leté in a jaunty bow. Double and full volant sleeves, with the white uppermost, complete an unusual and original number.

Schiaparelli favours a striped silk canvas for resort wear. She also likes plain, tailored lines so far as skirts are concerned and the original touch is supplied by the use of her broad elastic rib- bon in vivid colour combinations, which also provides the necessary colour contrast demanded by the mode this year. Thus Shanghai- red and white plaited elastic rib- bon form the high-in-the-front and down in the back line that Schiaparelli is so fond of, on a white silk canvas frock, which has a softly-draped "V" effect to its bodice and cool, straight sleeves ending above the elbow. A Shanghai-red knotted cap, or a wide-brimmed hat complete the dress, equally well, according to the use required of it.

Accessories to accompany these dresses should be simple yet not too sportlike. White kid shoes and bags and "sunburn" stockings are always "right." Of course, there are some beautiful linen shoes and bag sets that are mar- vellous with linen dresses, but they are certainly to be classed in the de luxe category, as you can only wear them with one particular dress. The same is true of the delightful nique and organdie hats shown for summer wear. They are only elegant when perfectly fresh and crisp, and at the first sign of wilting should be sent to the modiste or discarded.

White or natural linen gloves, gloves of Irish lace, and the more formal all-organdie gloves can ac- company a resort dress adequately and are at the same time very smart, but some women prefer to discard them altogether, which is also admitted by the leaders in chic and elegance.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

By Alicia Hart

Now is the time to plan your autumn beauty routine. Deter- mine first what you need in the way of cosmetics and just what sort of treatments you will re- quire.

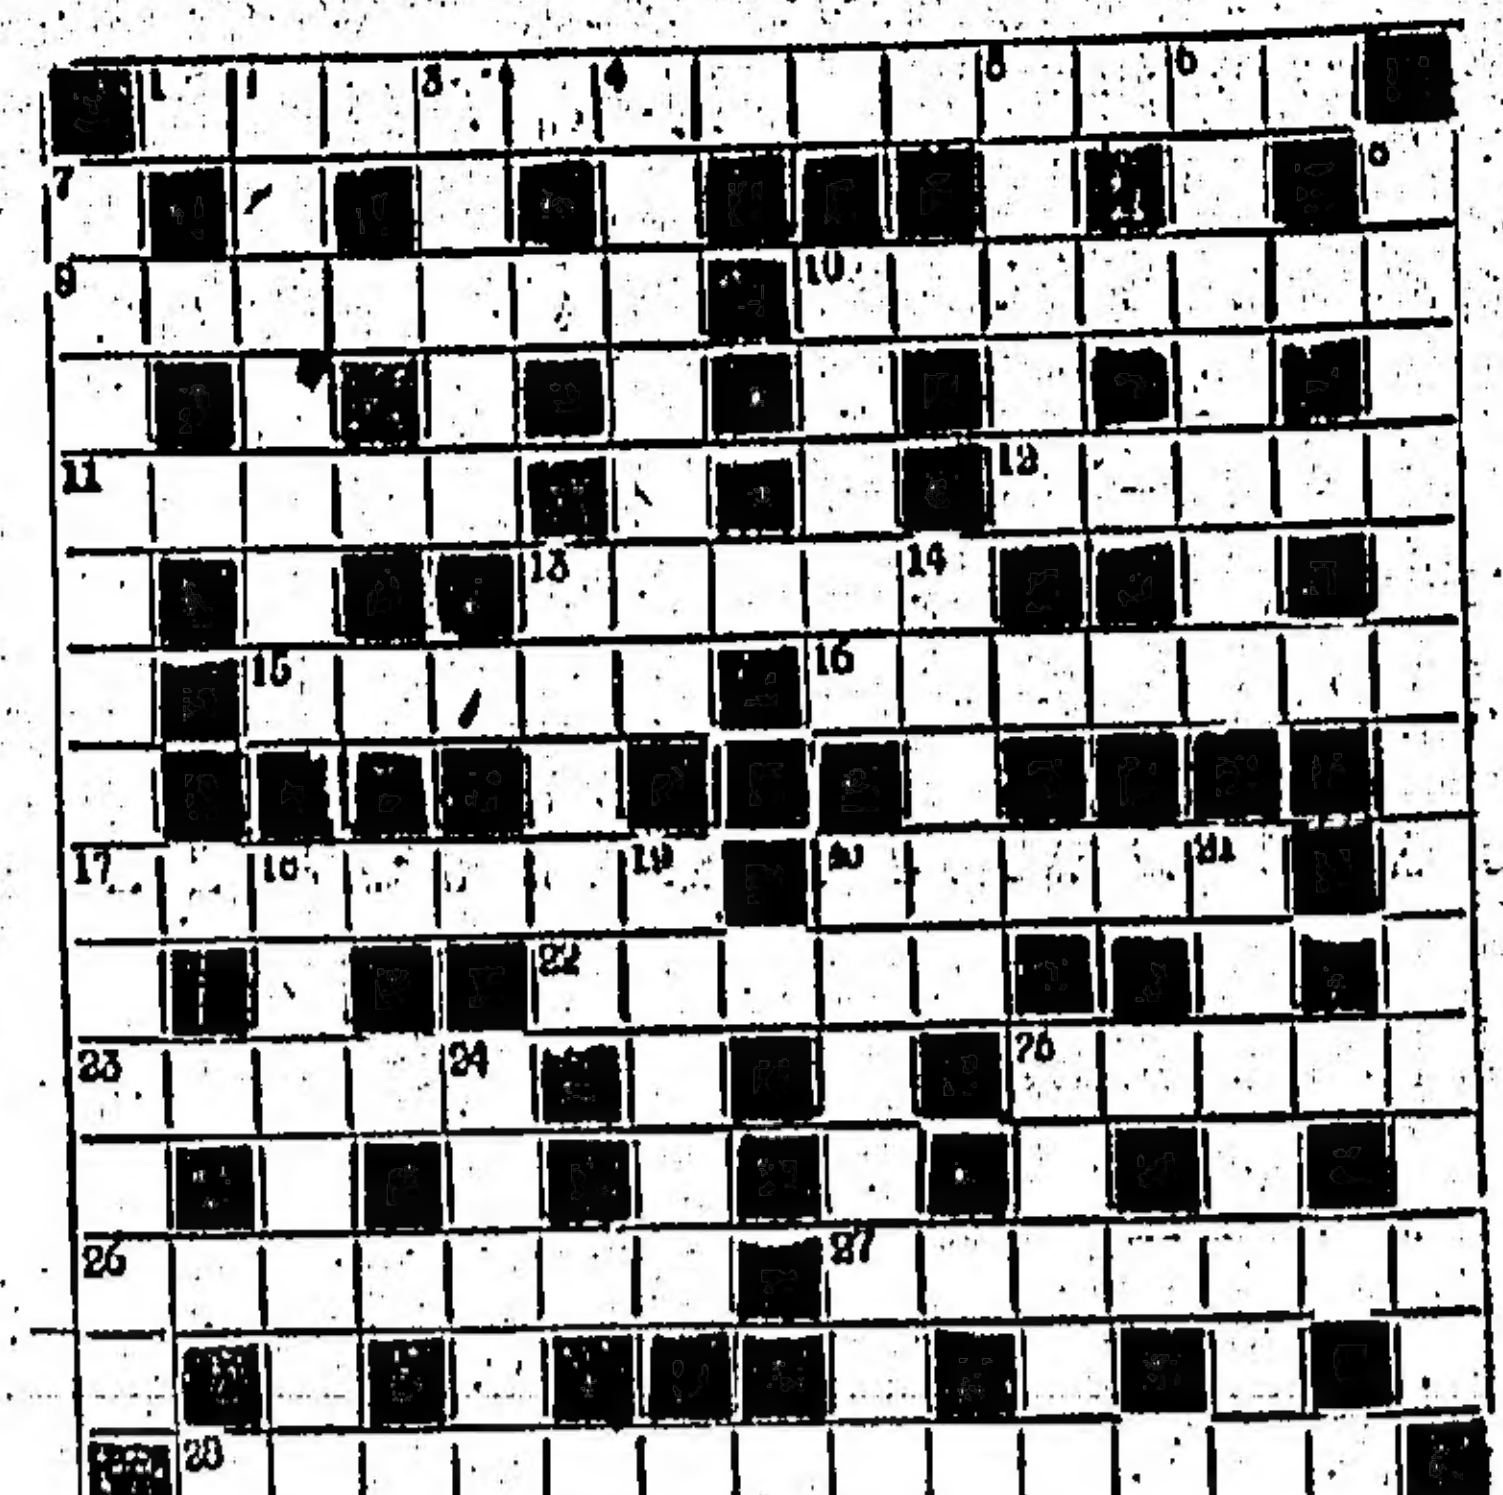

If your skin has become tanned, freckled or rough during the sum- mer, bleaches will probably be your first consideration. You will want to know whether you are go- ing to need a weak or a fairly strong bleach.

If it is convenient, a "good" idea is to go to a beauty shop for a couple of bleaching and cleansing facials. These start you off "right" and then it is easier to continue the treatments right at home.

What about your hair? Has it become faded, dry or lifeless dur- ing the summer months? If the answer is "yes," you'd better map out a schedule for it, too.

Carefully consider massage treatments, hot oil shampoos and other aids to a healthy scalp and hair. You'll probably want to try a new coiffure this autumn, so make a careful study of new and becoming ways to dress your hair.

For the LOVE of EVE by Lucy Walling

CHAPTER XLVI

Dick was not at the boarding house when Eve arrived there. A servant answered the bell and invited Eve into the living room to wait for him. A moment later Mrs. Williams entered. Her blue eyes looked kindly and she settled herself for a chat but Eve neither disclosed the purpose of her visit or asked questions about Dick.

Presently Mrs. Williams excused herself and returned to the kitchen. Eve grew nervous and restless. Then she saw Dick's yellow roadster coming around the bend of the road. She sat stock-still. Dick stopped the car before the door and his companion—an attractive girl—stepped out, entered the house and passed down the centre hall.

Dick drove on but soon reappeared. A moment later he stood in the great arched doorway of the hall, staring at Eve.

"Why, Eve!" he cried. Plainly he was embarrassed and Eve immediately thought of the girl who had been with him.

"Well, this is a surprise!" Dick was saying.

Eve's composure left her. She began to cry and this only increased Dick's embarrassment.

"Not here," he said. "Come up to my room." He led the way to a large upstairs bedroom. It was a comfortable looking room—not at all as Eve had pictured life near a construction camp.

"You don't seem very pleased to see me," she said in a trembling voice.

"I'm surprised, that's all."

"Well, you may as well know I saw you with your girl friend," she said accusingly. "I'm sorry now that I came."

Dick laughed. "You needn't be," he said easily. "I was out at the job this morning and picked her up on the way back. She's one of the teachers who live here and she was walking home from church. It wouldn't have been very polite to pass her by, would it?"

"It looked odd to me."

"See here!" Dick said hotly. "I'll not be put on the defensive just for giving a person a lift."

"Oh, Dick—we're quarrelling again and I didn't want to."

He turned away from her and looked out of the window.

"Dick," Eve began timidly. He half-turned. "Dick, I was so lonely!" she added wistfully. He turned and she was in his arms.

Eve found the little town of Pine Forest enchanting. It had been settled by enterprising sons and daughters of New England pioneers, hence its architecture was strictly colonial. All of the houses were painted white. Some had green blinds. Grouped at the Four Corners were the important buildings—the town hall, one storey high and quaintly formed of cobblestones, a little cobbles-ton church, another church of wide white clapboards with a tall steeple, and a truly modern school house of red brick trimmed in white.

In the afternoon Dick took Eve for drive into the woodland. The unpaved road wound in and out among the trees, downhill and up, until they came to a clearing high above a lake. Below them the water, blue-black from the dense shadows, resembled a huge mirror, banked by foliage. Eve stood entranced and Dick's arm gently slipped about her.

"Like it, sweetheart," he asked.

"It's heavenly," she answered softly.

That night she slept more soundly than she had slept for months and awakened refreshed and eager for the new day.

They took more trips into the woods in the days that followed. "To think," Eve said one evening, "that you have been enjoying all this while I've been cooped up in an office worrying about potty jealousies and having general grief!"

"You didn't have to, you know," Dick reminded her. "And you needn't go back."

"Oh, but I'm going!" she said, instantly regretting her outburst. "You don't think I'm going to be within sight of my goal and then not stay to have the glory, do you?"

"No," she continued. "Some of my acquaintances will sit up and take notice when June first comes and Bixby's announces the name of their new advertising manager!"

Dick had often spoken of his Aunt Sophronia and he had promised to take Eve to see her some day. Since Aunt Sophronia's home was not far distant they set out early Saturday morning and drove south through the mountains and foothills into the Cherry Valley.

They followed the turnpike over rolling farm country until they came to a little village nestled among the hills.

"Oh! It's another green and white village!" cried Eve. "That's just the sort of background I had imagined for Aunt Sophronia."

Dick smiled. Eve's enthusiasm always pleased him.

They drove into the yard before a small colonial cottage and parked the car. Then Dick pulled the old-fashioned bell and set its ring pealing through the house.

A tall, wiry woman dressed in tight-fitting black greeted them. "We are Aunt Sophronia's niece and nephew," Dick announced.

From an inner room a commanding voice called. "Send them in, Hannah! Send them in!"

Sophronia Rader greeted her nephew affectionately, then turned to peer at Eve who went forward and graciously extended her hand.

"This is Eve, my wife," said Dick.

"Well glory be!" ejaculated the 80-year-old aunt. "I never expected to see you! Never expected Dick to marry in the first place. But you had to ask him."

Eve laughed. "Why, that's just what my grandmother said."

Aunt Sophronia and Eve became friends immediately. Eve's heart warmed to the aged woman who had broken a hip at the age of 80 and lived to continue her cheerful philosophy.

Looking about the room Eve's eyes brightened and she cried out, "Dick, look at that lovely whatnot—with spool turnings, too!"

Aunt Sophronia glanced around. "Humph—that old thing!" she said. "Why I've had it for 60 years. Neighbour gave it to me for helping her when she was sick. If you like it you can have it."

"Why, you darling!" Eve said and kissed her.

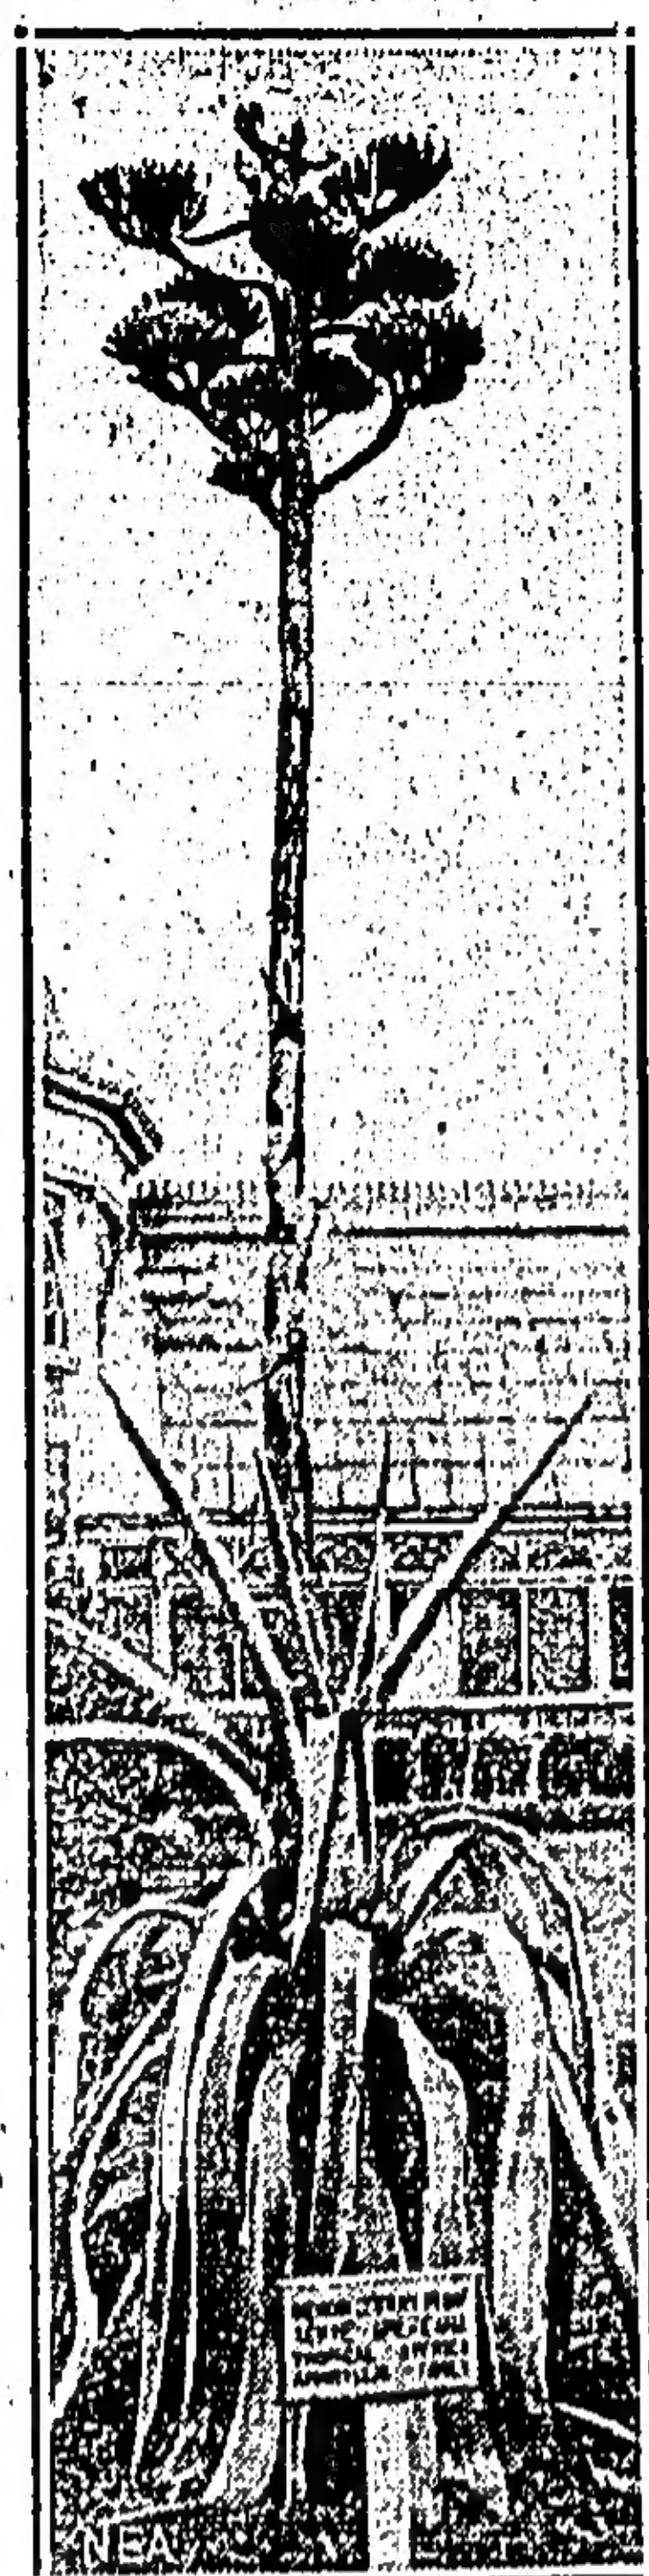

"So you like antiques, eh?" Aunt Sophronia said. "Well, I'm tired of them. Lived with them all my life. I like newfangled things better. But I have something I want to show you and if you like it you can have it too. It's old but it's right pretty. Hannah!" she called. But this time Hannah must have been in the basement for she did not answer.

"I don't know what's the matter with that woman," Aunt Sophronia complained. "I have such a time finding the right person for a companion. This one would be perfect but she has a cat. And everywhere that Hannah goes the kitty goes along. I'd like to get rid of the cat, but if the cat goes Hannah will follow. And then I'll have all the trouble of finding someone else."

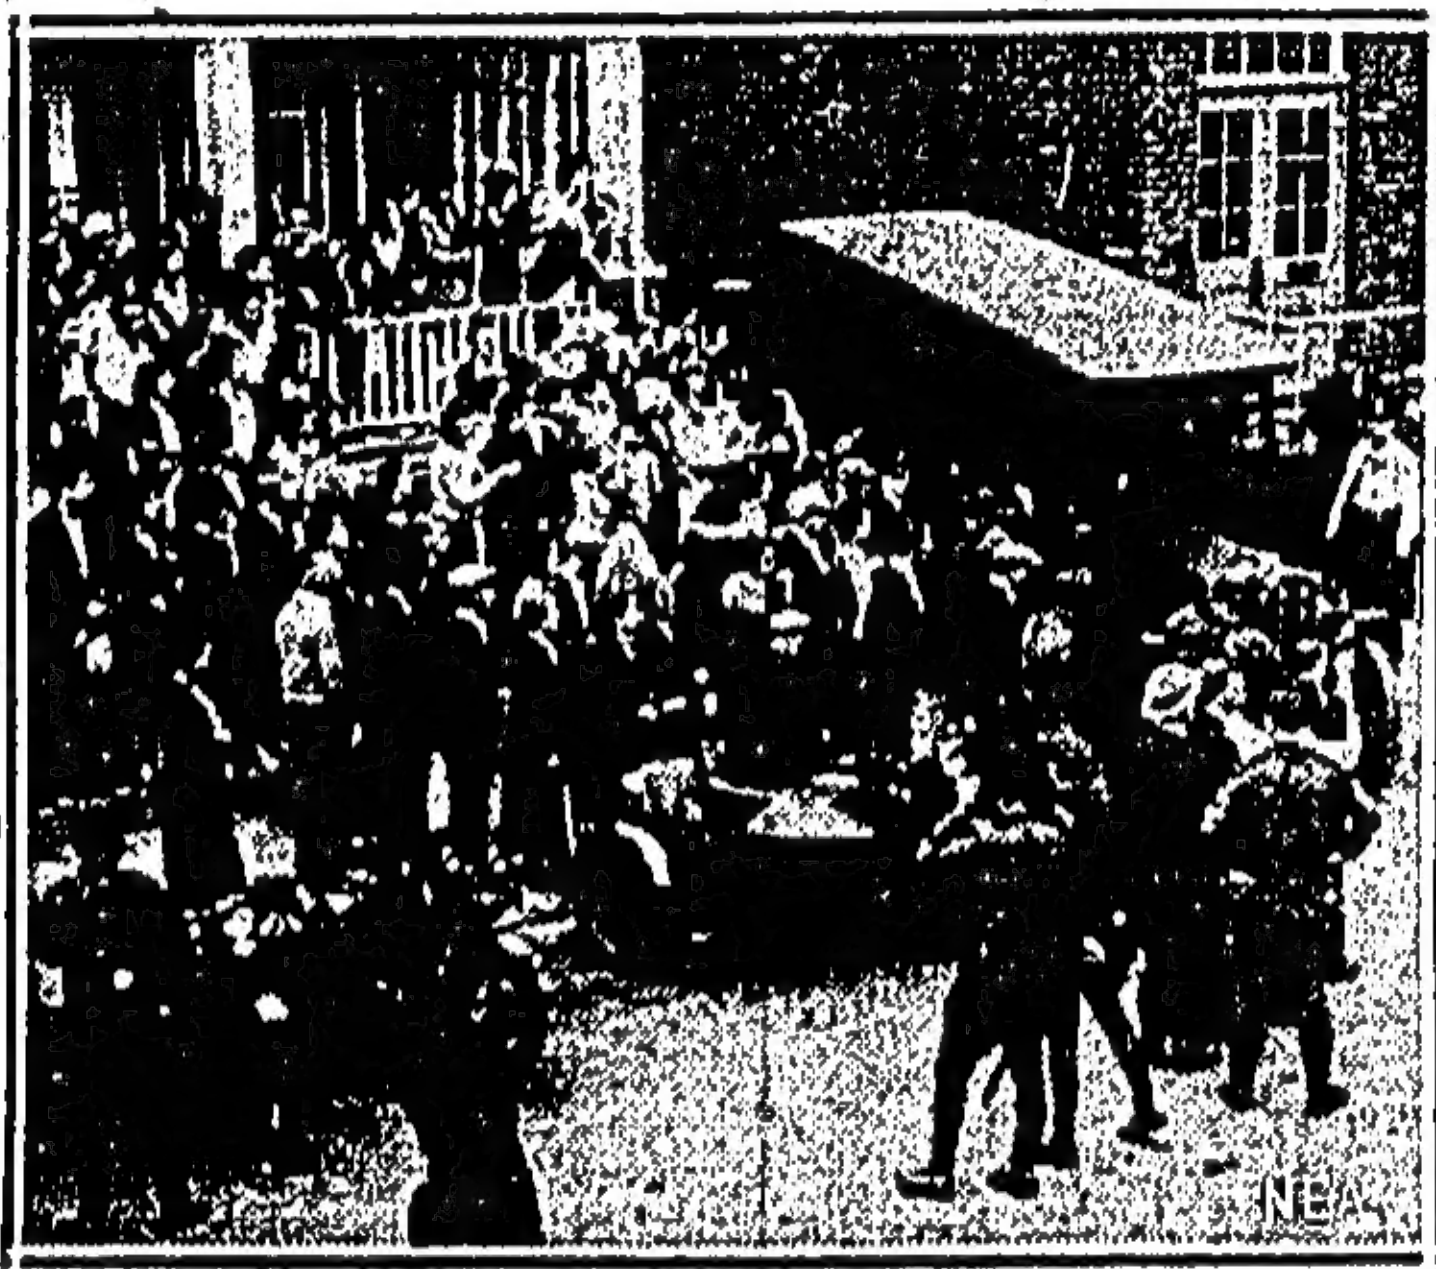

Finally Hannah responded. "Go into my room and bring the upper drawer of the highboy to me."

Sophronia said briskly. Hannah came back lugging the mahogany drawer. Dick rose to help and they set it on a chair before the aunt. The fragrance of violets rose from its depths as the white-haired (Continued on Page 11.)

One plant that's not working overtime these days is the famed Century Plant. The Bronx (N.Y.) Botanical Garden. Four weeks overdue on its scheduled blooming, the temperamental exhibit here is shown as it appeared last year with 66 of its blossoms in bloom. It still has 534 to go!

Two men were shot to death and 18 injured in a riot which climaxed an eight-week strike in a silk hosiery mill in Northeast Philadelphia. This was a street scene as police (more than 240 of whom were called out) established order after the fracas.

Manuel Alonso, Spanish Davis Cup star of 15 years ago, showed he hadn't lost any of his old-time form when he beat Berkeley Bell, Texas, 6-3, 6-2, 6-3, in the national singles championship tournament at Forest Hills, N.Y. Here Bell goes, not trying to reach one of Alonso's well-placed drives.

MASTER SERIES

Dual-automatic Refrigerators

Twelve years of painstaking research preceded the marketing of the now famous Westinghouse Dual-Automatic electric refrigerator. Westinghouse waited that long because it wanted to make sure that every detail in the refrigerator's construction was as perfect as human ingenuity and science could make it... the pains of trial and error were not heeded upon the buyer... in its own extensive laboratories Westinghouse conducted its tests and gave to the public the most advanced refrigerator within the grasp of science.

Now, because in those same laboratories those same scientists have found new ways—WITHOUT ANY BASIC CHANGE—of giving you added beauty—affording you greater economy—increased ice-freezing capacity—at prices which set new standards of value—we are presenting the new MASTER SERIES dual-automatic Westinghouse refrigerators.

Come in today... see these truly MASTER refrigerators.

THE ECONOMIST IN HUMAN SOCIETY

healthy houses" by the ordinary action of private enterprise.

That was in 1876. Now, in 1933, the economists have been fattened on depression and are once more at the top of their form. They disagree, as they always have done and always will do, as to the duty of an economist. One man will write that it is the economist's business to study "human behaviour as a relationship between ends and scarce means"; another that economics is the study of "why we are well off as we are"; and a third will add the words "together with a consideration as to how we can make ourselves better off." What should the man in the street think of these people and of their science and craft? Until Mr. Keynes' ambition is realised and economists "become thought of as humble, competent people on a level with dentists," the ordinary chap must be very careful to distinguish between what economists "know" as economic facts, and what they "think" to be the social consequences of a given economic action. For in the first case the economist is nearly always right, whilst in the second case he is very often wrong.

In considering the statements of economists the public must sift out the fact from the fancy before they decide upon action, otherwise they may find that they have based a policy on "economic facts" which are only sociological suppositions.

INQUEST VERDICT

NO REFUSAL BY THE HOSPITAL

Evidence regarding the procedure adopted at the Government Civil Hospital for the admission of accident cases was given by Dr. G. H. Thomas, of the Medical Department, at the resumed enquiry yesterday into the death of a coolie, Chan Sze-wing, who died in the Government Civil Hospital after a fall from a motor lorry while in motion. The hearing was taken by Mr. Schofield, sitting as Coroner, at the Central Magistracy yesterday afternoon, assisted by the following jury:—Messrs. J. B. Macdonald (foreman), F. H. Farnon and Tsung Po-tong.

At last Friday afternoon's hearing the driver, Lo Wing, and a fohi, Li Luk, both alleged in evidence that when the injured man was taken to the Government Civil Hospital admittance was refused, and they were told to report the matter first to the Police.

Addressing the Court, Dr. Thomas said that as he was not present last week he had no knowledge whatever of what the driver stated, that he brought the patient to the hospital and was refused admission. He was amazed when he read the account of the enquiry the following morning.

Mr. Schofield: I think it was a surprise to everybody.

Dr. Thomas said he asked the driver for particulars the next day. From his own point of view, Dr. Thomas said he admitted the man at 1.30 p.m. He was leaving to go to tiffin and at the hospital main gate he met the driver and the patient, who was lying unconscious on the lorry. He at once summoned a stretcher and removed him to the receiving room.

Dr. Thomas continued that what the driver told him was that at 12.30 p.m. on the day of the accident he stopped the lorry at the Queen's Road entrance of the hospital, which is some distance from the administrative buildings. He stated he saw someone but, whoever he saw, said Dr. Thomas, it was not a medical officer on duty or the wardmaster on duty. If the driver had made himself clear that he had an injured man at the Queen's Road entrance they would have sent a stretcher down. He might have only said, "I have got an injured man," but that was purely conjecture.

"What I want to say, sir is that in any serious cases, particularly accidents, it is our duty to take all cases. When this man was admitted at 1.30 p.m., he was taken in immediately."

Deceased Admitted.

Dr. Thomas then entered the witness stand. He stated the deceased was admitted at 1.30 p.m. He met him at the main gate, Hospital Road. The man was in the vehicle which brought him, and was unconscious. He was brought to the receiving room, his address taken, and then sent to the ward.

Witness examined him in the receiving room.

Mr. Schofield: When accident cases come to the hospital what are the standing orders?

Dr. Thomas: The patient goes to the receiving room first. There a wardmaster, always on duty, sends for the doctor on duty who then attends to the patient. If serious. If not serious he will instruct the wardmaster what to do. If the case is not serious enough to warrant admission he is then dressed and instructed to return daily to have his wound dressed. If of any severity he is admitted, and then the wardmaster informs the Police. If he is admitted, no matter how trivial the injury, the wardmaster informs the Police he is admitted, and then the Police will come to make enquiries. We admit everyone we can, unless it is very slight.

"No wardmaster, or any other subordinate, is in authority to refuse admission to such cases. The refusal to admit is decided on only by the medical officer. If the case is not serious and we are overcrowded we send them by ambulance to the Tung Wah Hospital, with a chit written by the doctor. Where the cases involve Police Court proceedings they are not so dealt with."

Lo Wing, the driver, said that the deceased was first taken to the hospital before he made the report to the police. He took the injured man to the Queen's Road entrance, and went up with three fohis to make enquiries. In the receiving room he saw a man writing at a table and told him he had brought an accident case, but the man refused admittance saying he had to report the case to the police first. On October 7 he did not make a statement to Dr. Thomas. Dr. Thomas only asked him whether he could recognise his fohi.

Leo Yu-chouk, the wardmaster, denied he had refused admittance to any accident case that morning. He had never seen the last witness that morning.

This concluded the evidence, and after Mr. Schofield had summed up the case, the Jury brought in a verdict of death by misadventure.

The foreman said they were satisfied the hospital authorities had explained the position very adequately, and they were not in any way responsible for the refusal of admittance.

DONALD-THOMAS—On October 12, 1933, at St. John's Cathedral, Hongkong, by the Rev. N. V. Hayward, M.A., Frances Ellen, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Trevor Thomas of Shanghai, to Francis Henry, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Donald of Tintagel, Cornwall, and formerly of Shanghai.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1933.

THE BUDGET DEBATE

Unofficial members of Legislative Council earned the thanks of the community yesterday. The Budget debate was highly instructive and helpful, getting down more closely than has sometimes been observed to matters of widespread public interest. In the result, the debate reached a high standard, the Officials being inspired to a little more earnestness in their replies, implanting more colour and enabling the onlooker to obtain a better picture of Government aims and policies. A better appreciation is gained of the difficulties and problems of administration and with improved understanding, the tendency to criticism is modified. No small thanks are due to His Excellency the Governor, whose survey covered the ground in almost model form and, moreover, with delightful freedom in the main from indications of the Official Mind. The Budget, in fact, looks better after a criticism and explanation than it did on the first reading, although some of the matters reviewed without strictly belonging to the Budget were more important. It was satisfactory, for instance, to obtain a definite assurance that the present state of affairs in the local passenger transport field, are "not to be permitted to continue indefinitely." The warning given the bus companies is one that cannot be ignored; the Government are committed to serious efforts to effect an all-round improvement. Sir Henry Pollock also expressed the feeling of the community in his attack on Government leisureliness in connexion with the Central British School. The explanation must, perhaps, be accepted for what it is worth, although it suggests rather that the P.W.D. is so bound up in red tape that it cannot be hurried. It will be admitted that time must be given for site formation though it may be observed that the most complex sites are chosen with astonishing consistency whenever an important piece of work is required to be done. It will be a long time in fact before the P.W.D. is forgiven for changing the original site to make room for a Mental Hospital that is not nearly so urgent, with the result that a well-prepared and suitable site now lies vacant and may remain so for some years to come. Apart from this, there is little in the official explanations of various points raised at which to cavil. The stock-taking has cleared away many cobwebs.

NOTES OF THE DAY

WATER SUPPLY

The deal of making the local water supply self-supporting is one which naturally commends itself as only reasonable. Where special and expensive efforts are necessary to guarantee any supply at all, it is a corollary that the public should expect to pay more than in centres where problems are negligible. At the same time, we doubt if H.E. the Governor's hint that an end may come to free water will be received with anything but alarm, even if it is practicable, which is questionable. It would, perhaps, be fairer to await further details before committing to condemnation, but, in the meantime, it may be pointed out that the Colony is paying pretty well through the nose for its existing service, having regard to its irregularity. Next year's budget provides for revenue of $2,000,000 in direct payments for water and to that figure has to be added the quota credited to water under the heading of assessment taxes. Even taking into account all the capital spent on reservoirs and to be spent at Shing Mun, the return does not seem unhandsome.

TRADE OUTLOOK

The Hon. Mr. Kotowall's plea for a spirit of confidence, during his Budget speech yesterday, will be received sympathetically. There is little ground for optimism in commercial circles at present, however; trade is steadily declining and, as Government confesses, there is little that can be done locally to improve the situation. We are dependent upon the realisation in Canton, China generally indeed, that there is a stage where increased customs duties result in decreasing revenue, and upon the world outside for a boost in business all round. Hongkong can help itself in one way only, namely, continuing to spend. Economy is not wise at all times; if every individual member of the community drew in his financial horns at the same time, even existing business would be impossibly handicapped.

AUSTRIA'S FUTURE

Austria has plainly begun a new chapter in its checkered history. It has joined the ranks of Fascist dictatorships. But it is well to make distinctions, for various brands of Fascism have cropped up in Europe and are filtering into distant lands. While exact details of the new system of government are not available, sufficient evidence is at hand to show that it leans decidedly toward the Italian. The head of Mussolini, if not the hand, is seen in the structure of the new state, which has been erected upon a corporative basis and under "authoritative" leadership. It was apparently not for a mere exchange of conversations that the Austrian Chancellor visited the Italian Premier at an Adriatic seaport a few weeks ago.

Under the new system class strife is to disappear. Political parties are to be eliminated. The old Parliament is never to be restored. The epoch of liberalism for Austria, says the Chancellor, has ended. Patriarchal cooperation is to form a vital part of the new constitutionalism, and the participants in each enterprise are to work harmoniously together and constitute unit in the new order. These are striking changes, striking not for Austria alone but for Europe, where a great political transition is being effected chiefly as a result of the economic disorganization.

TO BENEFIT?

Does Austria stand to benefit by the change? The answer is not so difficult as might appear. Italy has gained temporarily at least by Fascism. Even those who hope to see Italy eventually achieve self-government recognise that the present system is better than that which preceded it. This is largely so because Mussolini knew when to apply the brakes. He placed a restraining hand upon excesses. Is not this, then, the direction in which the test for Dr. Dollfus will lie? His ability to govern his country with moderation will probably determine the success of his new venture. He starts out favourably of union with Germany. He wants his country free and independent. At the same time, he harbours no animosity against the neighbouring German state. That is a significant beginning.

It is a well-known fact that a suitable site now lies vacant and may remain so for some years to come. Apart from this, there is little in the official explanations of various points raised at which to cavil. The stock-taking has cleared away many cobwebs.

THE ECONOMIST IN HUMAN SOCIETY

Rival Gangs of Practitioners

By STEPHEN KING-HALL

On September 8, 1827, one of your ancestors had felt rich enough to spend the sum of sevenpence on a copy of The Evening Standard, he would have read these words in the leading article: "Henry Drummond, Esq., of Albury Park, Surrey, was two years ago fool enough to found in the University of Oxford a professorship of political economy. There is no such science. All persons who profess this non-existing science and practise quackery under its name are mischievous. There can never be a science of political economy, of true political economy there is but one system—the Bible." There is a great deal of sound economic teaching in the Bible and some very interesting economic history. You will recollect that Pharaoh, King of Egypt, had a nightmare and that he sent for Joseph, expecting no doubt to hear some psycho-analysis. But Joseph—like many a Jew since—was an economist, and he gave Pharaoh a brief lecture on the trade cycle and the sequence of boom and slump. He went further, and with a courage which Mr. Keynes would applaud, he recommended a policy.

It was a proposal to inflict a planned economy on the Egyptians in the shape of a far-reaching degree of State intervention into economic life, including State control of one-fifth of the arable land. Mr. Walter Elliott's plans to make bigger and better British farmers are "very small beer" compared with Joseph's ambitions. And what is more, Joseph got away with it, whereas Walter . . . well, it looks to me like an even money bet at the moment of writing. To go back from 1933 to B.C. 2,000 odd, not only did Pharaoh accept Joseph's "Seven Year Plan," but he entrusted the Hebrew with its execution so that Joseph rode in the second chariot—and he cried before him, Bow the knee; and he (Pharaoh) set him over all the land of Egypt. I am Pharaoh, and without thee shall no man lift up his hand or his foot in all the land of Egypt."

Truly those were great days for the science of political economy, and the members of the British Government's Economic Advisory Council have not yet been allowed to ride in the second motor-car on State occasions. In fact, I suspect that ever since its formation this Council has been lost in the Underground Railway. One last word about the economics of Holy Writ: it is laid down in Deuteronomy xv, verses 1 and 2, that "At the end of every seven years thou shalt make a release. And this is the manner of the release: every creditor shall release that which he hath lent unto his neighbour; he shall not exact it of his neighbour and his brother."

Unfortunately, Congress seems to have ignored these wise observations (hence the American Bank collapse and concentrated on the next verse in Deuteronomy, xv, which reads as follows: "Of a foreigner thou mayest exact it; but whatsoever of thine is with thy brother thine hand shall release."

Events will, I suggest, prove to Congress that nowadays we are all "neighbours and brothers" in the economic sense.

This reflection brings me to the question of the position of the economist in human society. The status of the economist depends upon the degree of well-being of the economic system. When the world is sick, as it was soon after the Napoleonic Wars; as it has been since 1919; and as it probably will be in 1940, men cry aloud for their economists. With spoonfuls of nauseous remedies of a deflationary character, one school of economists gather round the hard and lumpy bed which men have made for themselves during war years. Some of the foul medicine is forced down the patient's throat.

A rival gang of practitioners, whom the orthodox describe as pseudo-economists—the osteopaths and homeopaths of economic teaching—assure the invalid that the violent purges administered by the orthodox practitioner are out of date, and that recovery can and must be achieved through the stimulus of a few injections of inflation. Yet the patient have faith and say firmly: "Prosperity is just round the corner," and the corner will disappear.

From one cause or another—probably from the innate vitality of man's economic system, which survives both inflation and deflation—a recovery sets in. The slump passes away and is forgotten in the joy days of the boom, of rising prices. The company promoter blows his brightly-coloured bubbles, which float invitingly into the hands of the clamorous public. From New York comes the glad news: "The tape is behind the floor." It is roses, roses all the way. This is when the orthodox economists shrink back into their academic obscurity like owls driven off at the dawn of day. The merry markets and the frisky bulls pay no attention to the lugubrious hoot of the wise owls, that after the day comes once again the darkness.

There is, in fact, a trade cycle in economists. They slumped very badly in the early 'Eighties, as may be seen from the proceedings at a famous dinner of economists held in 1878 in honour of the centenary of the birth of Adam Smith. The keynote of the speeches was a profound pessimism as to the utility of economists. Mr. Gladstone, the principal guest, whilst fearing that economists had almost exhausted their usefulness, admitted that perhaps some work still remained to be done in the matter of currency reform.

Mr. Newmarch, the Treasurer of the Political Economy Club, believed that the future role of economists must be that of producing the "important and beneficial effect" of "reducing the functions of government within a smaller and smaller compass." He fulminated against "the erection of one Government department after another . . . one set of inspectors after another . . . the whole time of Parliament being taken up in attempting to do for the nation

The Very Idea!

TALK OF LUCK.

By Eddie Kelly, Man Friday.

WE want to warn all our Public about being careful to-day. We never thought about it ourself until we sprang out of bed this morning and bumped our big toe on the bed post. And then we remembered.

Readers, do you know what to-day is? Do you know what could happen to you to-day?

Take a look at the day and date at the top of this page, and then see if you can refrain from shivering.

Anything could happen to-day. Quite likely our account will be finally stopped at the hotels, our wife will find out where we were on Tuesday night; our boss will decide that now is the time to reduce our salary, or our beer might go sour.

You can never tell what tragedies will happen on Friday the 13th.

Not that we are superstitious. We can walk under a ladder with the best of them, and if a black cat walks across our path, we kick it out of our way. In fact, where superstition is concerned, we feel as reckless as a Japanese general who sends his washing to a Chinese laundry.

But there's one thing we do buck at, and that's a Friday when it falls on the thirteenth. That's the day we were married.

OUR ANNIVERSARY

The Very Idea celebrates its birthday to-day, so just to see what kind of a damfool we've made of ourself during the past twelve months we've been thumbing through some old copies of the Telegraph.

In view of the fact that Christmas isn't far off, we now take this opportunity of apologising to everybody whom we've insulted. We're sorry about all the rude things we've said about prominent people in this Colony. We're sorry about all the puns we've tried to inflict on you. In fact, we're sorry Eddie Kelly was ever born.

One voice arose in angry protest at the suicidal tendencies of his fellow economists. The great Jevons declared: "There are still great possibilities for us in the future. We need," he continued, "a science of the money market and of commercial fluctuations which shall inquire why the world is all activity for a few years and then all inactivity." He also expressed the view that "the great mass of the people will not have

KIANGSU REORGANISATION

NEW CHAIRMAN INSTALLED

Shanghai, Oct. 13. Regarding the reorganisation of the Kiangsu Provincial Government, the newly appointed members, including the Chairman of the Kiangsu Provincial Government, Mr. Chen Ku-fu, were formally installed in their offices yesterday morning at a simple ceremony.

Mr. Chang Chi represented Marshal Chiang Kai-shek. The ceremony took place at the Government headquarters at the seat of the Kiangsu Government, Chinkiang.

Addressing a gathering of over 1,000 officials, Mr. Chang Chi stressed the geographical importance of Kiangsu Province, because of the inclusion of both Shanghai and Nanking within its territories. The reorganisation of the Provincial Government was necessary through the appointment by the Government of the retiring Governor, General Ku Chu-tung, to head an anti-bandit suppression commission in North China and the appointment of Mr. Chen Ku-fu was a happy choice, because this experienced Kuomintang official has been attached with the Nanking Kuomintang executive committee for a number of years.

Programmes for the furtherance of reconstruction and defence work in Kiangsu, because of its prominent position along the coast, were also outlined by the official speaker.

The retiring governor left for Shanghai by aeroplane yesterday afternoon after the ceremony. It will be recalled that Ku Chu-tung's resignation was brought about by strong criticism by numerous Kiangsu public bodies complaining to the Nanking Censorate Yuan, which held an enquiry and suggested the government's reorganisation. Mr. Chen Ku-fu was Chiang Kai-shek's former private secretary.

FIRE SPRINKLER TESTS

CHINA EMPORIUM EXPERIMENT

A thorough test of the Phoenix Independent Automatic Sprinkler installed in the China Emporium in accordance with the most modern fire resisting methods, was carried out this morning in the presence of the Hon. Mr. E. D. C. Wolfe, C.M.G., Inspector General of Police, the Hon. Mr. T. N. Chiu of the Fire Insurance Association and others.

Mr. F. S. Nicholls, engineer, of the Jardine Engineering Corporation, who installed the apparatus, was present with the manager, Mr. E. G. Wilkinson to assist at the tests.

The system is fed with a dual supply, a roof tank feeding the water in the case of the failure of the Government supply. The pressure varies from 40 pounds on the roof to an average of 90 pounds at street level. The apparatus is controlled by six Phoenix Wet Pipe Control valves throughout the entire store which operate at a temperature of 155 degrees Fahrenheit. As the sprinklers commence to function the fire alarm bell is automatically set ringing.

Among those present were Supt. H. T. Brooks, Deputy Supt. J. C. FitzHenry, and Station Officer W. McIntosh Smith, all of the Fire Brigade, Messrs. R. H. Wild, G. S. Archibut, A. C. Ellis, T. A. Mitchell, R. W. Gardner, W. C. Bailey, T. R. Macdonald, W. E. Hale and Lan Yuk-wan of the Fire Insurance Association.

GERMANY ANXIOUS TO PAY DEBTS

NATION DOING HER BEST.

Berlin, Oct. 8. "Despite all the difficulties faced by Germany's foreign trade, we are trying by every possible means to increase our possibilities for the transfer of foreign currencies to pay off credits falling due abroad," declared Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, Governor of the Reichsbank, in an interview with the official Wolff Agency yesterday. "Germany does not want to avoid her obligations," he said, "but, on the contrary, is anxious to pay all her debts." These statements come as a reply to comments in the foreign press on the current negotiations between Germany and Switzerland concerning full payment of German coupons held by Swiss creditors.

CUBA ASKS FOR FAIRPLAY

PRESIDENT'S APPEAL TO AMERICA

Havana, Oct. 7. President Grau San Martin, in a statement to American newspapers to-day appealed to the people of the United States for fair play and to permit him to give Cuba a new and honest government.

"We must restore peace in the island and make certain that the people are to have genuine democracy and justice," the President said.

President San Martin said that certain American financial concerns with heavy investments in Cuba had been definitely unfriendly toward Cuba.

With the end of Communist agitation and disturbances, which caused deaths and injuries to six others yesterday, the possibility of racial trouble now looms. Reports were received by the police to-day that several white women had been insulted in the streets.

TRADE WITH RUSSIA. In the State Department, meanwhile Mr. Cordell Hull, Mr. W. C. Bullitt, Mr. Harry F. Payer, Mr. Robert Kelley and other assistants drafted what may be the final report on the political, economic and diplomatic results that may be expected to follow recognition of Soviet Russia.

The report to President Roosevelt as filed contained a survey showing that it is entirely possible that Russia will make purchases in the United States totalling $350,000,000.

The legal phases connected with the process of establishing diplomatic and trade relations were also set forth in the report. The report is said to consist of a compilation of facts and contains no recommendation for or against recognising Russia.

It is officially announced that a friendly agreement has been reached between France and Italy on the subject of the Italian proposals regarding Danubian economic co-operation on the basis of principles known as "deliberate contracts."

The Powers of the Little Entente are opposed to the plan, especially Czechoslovakia, but Poland is not unfavourably disposed towards it.

DAY BY DAY NEWS IN BRIEF

"PUGNACITY IS A FORM OF COURAGE, BUT A VERY BAD FORM."—St. Clair Lewis.

An All Ranks Dance in aid of the Ministering Children's League (M.C.L.) will be held in the Garrison Lecture Hall to-night.

Thrown from a push bicycle when it skidded, Cheong Hin-ching, of 33 Sal St., Quarry Bay, was admitted to Hospital yesterday with serious injuries.

Two cases of diphtheria, with one death, six cases of typhoid with one death (two imported), one case of paratyphoid and 68 deaths from tuberculosis, were reported to the local health authorities last week. On Wednesday two cases of typhoid were also reported.

FAMOUS WRITER

KATHLEEN NORRIS VISITS THE COLONY

"I have lived all my life in California, and there it seems the natural thing to come to China. Of all the places I have visited, Hongkong is the most glorious. After I returned from Ropulse Bay this afternoon I told the children that when I retired I was coming back there to live."

Kathleen Norris, most prolific and famous American authoress of to-day, had this to say about Hongkong when she was interviewed aboard the Lloyd Triestino liner Conte Rosso yesterday.

Author of "Walls of Gold," "Hillside," "The Foolish Virgin" and other best sellers, Mrs. Norris came to the Far East to attend the wedding of her niece, Miss Margaret Hartigan, in Shanghai. Two other nieces, who accompanied her across the Pacific, acted as bridesmaids.

"I started writing books twenty-five years ago, when my first baby was born," she told a Press representative. "Since then I have published 57 books. Quite a few have been pictured in Hollywood, and before long you should see the Fox version of 'Walls of Gold,' my latest book. Sally Eilers will play the leading role."

"I very rarely bother the film people now. After all, if they change a story slightly, they probably have a good reason. I find it very much more successful to sell my rights, and let the film people tackle the story. There are already too many differences between Hollywood and the writers. I believe in letting them do the best they can."

"When my first two or three books were filmed, I used to be thoroughly annoyed at the alterations, but I've got past that. I rarely visit Hollywood during the actual filming of one of my books, but go there later. The time to suggest alterations is when the film is completed."

From Hongkong Mrs. Norris returns to California via Paris, London and New York. Her husband, who is also an author of note in California, is accompanying her on the trip.

FAR EAST CRISIS

FRENCH OBSERVERS DISTURBED

Paris, Oct. 12. The Japan-Soviet tension is causing a growing uneasiness here.

Le Temps, in an editorial to-day, states that there seems to be no prospect of an agreement being reached at present. If things continue as they are it may be most difficult to prevent an outbreak, the consequences of which would be most grave.

In the present state of international chaos, Japan has a unique opportunity of achieving her ambitions on the Asiatic continent, the paper says.

On the other hand, the paper adds, the Japanese, who are acute political realists, know that Great Britain and the United States would not remain indifferent if the existing Far East equilibrium were upset. A very vast and very complex Pacific problem lurks behind the Russo-Japanese question, says the editorial.

Le Journal des Debats gives as its opinion that a grave crisis is improbable, as neither party to the dispute could gain much by launching out into wild adventures. "But you never can tell," the observer adds. "Far Eastern affairs are always rich in surprises."—Reuter.

The Pathological Institute of the Sun Yat-sen University, Canton, has received from the Pathological Institute of the University of Munich a valuable collection of educational objects to be placed at the disposal of the Pathological and Anatomical Museum attached to the university named, which was founded in 1927 by Dr. Dormanns of Munich.

Mr. Thomas J. Lawler, export sales manager for Messrs. A. Stein & Company, of New York, who is touring the world in the interest of his firm, is at present at Hongkong.

The wedding is announced to take place shortly of Mr. Sidney Simpson, metallurgist, of 4, Sawan Terrace, Quarry Bay, and Miss Rhona Mary Dickinson, of Stockfield, Northumberland. Notice has been given of the impending marriage of Mr. George Sims, and Miss Beatrice Elizabeth Hemo, both teachers, of 34, Conduit Road. Another wedding which will be taking place about the same time is announced, the parties being Mr. John Alexander Gow, deck officer, C.I.T. Plying, Customs House, Amoy, and Miss Helen Jane Masters, domestic science teacher, of Troon, Ayrshire.

U.S. EXPECTS NEW MONETARY PLAN.

DISCLOSURE BY SUNDAY NIGHT?

New York, Oct. 12. Wall Street is most expectant to-day, owing to rumours abroad to the effect that President Roosevelt is making an announcement on the nation's monetary policy on Sunday night.

Although there have been at least a dozen previous rumours of the same sort, and the President has maintained a strict silence in the face of each, there seems to be more general anticipation and a more wide-spread belief that the moment of the President's disclosure is at hand.

The monetary scheme at present being discussed is said to include silver very vitally, although bimetalism in America is considered an unlikely move.

Plans for the relief of 15,000,000 unemployed are rapidly going forward. They include an extensive scheme providing the needy with farm products. In this particular, a butter tax is contemplated, which, it is expected, would yield U.S. $30,000,000 for the purchase of dairy produce and meat.

Mr. William Woodin, Secretary of the Treasury, who went to Philadelphia to-day to listen to the famous Symphony Orchestra there, promised guests at dinner before the concert that there would be very good news next week.

"I seem now to be able to see sunshine and happiness on the horizon," he declared.—Reuter.

SCHOOL SOCCER.

Diocesan Boys Heavily Defeated.

Queen's College engaged the Diocesan Boys' School in a friendly soccer game yesterday, and won handsomely by five clear goals.

The game was evenly contested, with many attacks in turn, until one of the Diocesan School defenders accidentally scored Queen's first goal. Playing with better understanding during the latter part of the game, the Queen's College forwards soon outwitted the opposing defenders, and added four more goals, the final score being five to nil.

DISCUSSION PREVENTED AT GENEVA.

CINEMA SCREENINGS

NOTES SUPPLIED BY THE THEATRES

Lee Tracy's fast-talking comedy has a remarkable new medium in "The Nuisance," wherein he plays a "demoniac" lawyer, an ambulance-chasing charlatan who harries a street car company with damage suits on cleverly faked evidence and in the end dodges the traps of the Bar Association, and incidentally gives his audience an amazing insight into one of the legal rackets of the day.

The new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, now showing at the Queen's Theatre, blends laughs and heart throbs, thrills and drama, with rapid-fire speed. Sensational accidents, clever skirmishes in court, legal legions, romance, and some remarkable character delineations are all in the picture.

"Hallelujah, I'm a Tramp"

Al Jolson was born in St. Petersburg, Russia, which is probably why he likes hot weather. The hotter the better. He is happiest working out doors when the California sun is blazing out of a cloudless sky, and everyone else is registering complaints about the heat.

Smoking and gum-chewing are Al's chief dissipations. When he is nervous waiting for the scenes during those long waits when the lights are being adjusted and cameras set up, he munches on a raw turnip.

He seldom writes letters but is the best friend and patron of the telephone and telegraph companies. His telegrams usually run into several pages and he talks long distance from Hollywood to New York or vice versa, by the hour. He calls Mrs. Jolson every day.

He has a rather original idea that he should not do anything for himself that he can let some one else do, if it will help them. For instance he never shaves himself "because that's why we have barbers." He is playing in the next picture at the King's Theatre, starting on Sunday.

"Sunshine Susie"

"Sunshine Susie" with Renate Muller and Jack Hulbert in the leading roles will be screened at the Oriental Theatre to-day and Saturday.

Those admirers of the art of Jack Hulbert will applaud this clever actor's latest characterization in "Sunshine Susie," the Guinness comedy romance, the presentation of which our patrons are very soon to enjoy.

Hulbert has the role of a sort of glorified commissioner in a Viennese bank. He has "nerve," enterprise, authority. He likewise possesses musical leanings as the conductor of a society which discourses music of sorts in the local beer-garden. Indeed he is the musical society's president, vice-president, treasurer, secretary and conductor! It is as a conductor that this inimitable comedian really shines. His antics in the beer-garden, his quaint mannerisms with his topknotted, frock-coated choir, his dancing and his inimitable antics infuse into "Sunshine Susie" veritable tornadoes of laughter.

Susie herself, in the person of the lovely Renate Muller, is likely to be remembered not only for the "Happy" song which runs its melodious course through a romantic story, but for a personality that combines charm with simplicity. Her diction is perfect and her singing delightful.

"Pick Up"

Vina Delmar's "Pick Up," published originally as a short story, has been produced in film by B. P. Schulberg for Paramount under the same title, and comes on Sunday to the Queen's Theatre with Sylvia Sydney and George Raft in leading roles.

Like "Bad Girl" and other of Miss Delmar's stories, "Pick Up" centres around a boy and girl from the streets of the city, who are "hooked" about by social and economic laws, but ultimately find happiness in each other's arms.

"Dixiana"

With the showing of "Dixiana" at the Oriental Theatre on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, the talking screen takes a new step forward in its march to provide and encompass variety entertainment. Here is the first screen drama with music, not operatic, not operatic—but a dramatic story.

Bobo Daniels, whose magnificent and surprising talents as a soprano gratified in "Rio Rita," surpasses that achievement with one of the most colourful singing roles ever seen on the screen.

Altogether Radio Pictures has not attracted in entertainment players

as Johnny Howland, Dorothy Lee,

Joseph Cawthorn and Ralf Haroldo assist Wheeler and Woolsey to make

"Dixiana" grand fun and rousing drama.

FOR THE LOVE OF EVE
BY LUCY WALLING

lady tenderly lifted delicate limbs and bits of lace.
"There!" she said triumphantly when she had found what she sought. "I made this when I was only 16. It's a bedspread with two pillow shams."

They lend the spider-web lace over a mahogany table and Eve cried aloud. "Oh, it's too beautiful and too delicate for a bedspread! It should be used for a table cover. It's just too beautiful! But are you sure you want me to have it?"

"Yes," said Aunt Sophronia. "I've been saving it for Dick. I wasn't quite sure, though, what kind of a wife he'd pick. You know some of these young folks only appreciate what comes from a department store."

"Oh, I love it!" Eve assured her. "Well, at last I'll see it in use," said Aunt Sophronia. "Now that you have come, to settle in these parts maybe I'll get up there for a little visit."

"We'd love to have you," Dick interposed hastily, "but you see I live at a boarding house and Eve is just spending her vacation with me."

Eve blushed before the steady gaze of Aunt Sophronia. Finally the old lady said quite candidly, "What's the matter? Ain't your husband earning enough?"

All the way home Eve was silent. Dick had announced so casually that she was there for only two weeks. She was going back of course but she wanted him to show concern about it. Was he tired of her already? Eve pondered thus as they rode along through the sweet-smelling spring country-side. She was uncomfortable and ill at ease.

(To be Continued.)

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By W. E. McKenney

Here is a question often asked me by beginners at contract bridge: "What should I do when my partner has opened the bidding and the opponents bid the suit that I had planned to bid?"

The answer is simple—you should double. That is the best way of conveying this information to your partner.

Let me take up the following hand with you. While it is not a difficult hand to play, it presents several interesting angles.

The Bidding

South, the dealer, should open the contracting with one club. Some players with West's hand would overcall with one spade. If they do, North should double, as this is his best suit. As a matter of fact, if West had passed, North would have responded with one spade.

East, realizing that his partner has been trapped, should bid two hearts and South should pass. North reasons as follows—South, his partner, has made an original bid, he has heard the spade double, and when the opponents overcalled with hearts, he was unable to double hearts. He must have some strength in hearts or spades, and in addition he should have strength in diamonds to make the original bid.

While it is not generally good policy to make a constructive no trump bid with a singleton in your partner's suit, in this case that becomes the best bid because you have both hearts and spades stopped. Therefore North should bid two no trump and South will go to three no trump.

The Play

The jack of hearts is East's opening, which is won by the ace in dummy. With four diamonds to the ace in one hand and four to the queen in the other, the proper play is a small diamond to the ace. The eight dropping from East warns the declarer that the next card from East will be an honour. A small diamond is returned and East wins with the king.

East continues with a heart, which North wins with the queen. He now runs two diamonds, retaining the lead in his own hand. West discards a spade and a club. Declarer then leads the king of hearts and then a small club, finessing the jack. West winning with the king. The declarer is bound to make his contract as he has three good club tricks. West's best play is to return a club, and in this manner he will make two spade tricks.

RADIO LINKS

HONGKONG SOON TO TALK TO LONDON

That arrangements have been concluded for linking Hongkong by radio telephone with Shanghai and Manila, and through those centres to Europe, has been disclosed by investigations made yesterday by a Press representative.

From an official source it is learned that the Hongkong Government has concluded arrangements with the Radio Corporation of America in Manila, and the Inland Telegraph Administration in Shanghai, for the establishment of a service direct with the Colony.

It was also disclosed that an official of the Radio Corporation visited Hongkong last week, and during his stay here, discussed the proposed service with the Government. Tentative charges for the service were also discussed.

An official of the Hongkong Radio Service is now in Shanghai, where similar discussions are taking place regarding the Shanghai-Hongkong service.

It is understood that the whole of the arrangement, in Hongkong, will be handled by the Government, in line with existing radio-telegraphic services.

The scheme, it is understood, now awaits the confirmation of the Secretary of State for the Colonies. As soon as this is forthcoming, arrangements will be proceeded with for the installation of the necessary equipment.

Converse With World.

Both Shanghai and Manila are in radio telephonic communication with Europe, and could relay Hongkong. The Shanghai station routes all telephone conversations through the Telefunken station at Nauen, Berlin, which relays to other European centres. The Manila station routes through

GLUT OF RUBBER.

HUGE PRODUCTION IF PRICES INCREASE

London, Oct. 12. Rubber commodity and share markets this morning reflected the public interest in a meeting of industrial leaders.

The Chairman, Mr. Miller, today, declared that experience had clearly demonstrated that in the absence of a rubber restriction scheme and at a price of fourpence or fourpence-halfpenny a pound, the world output would soon rise to a million tons a year.

Prices had been more to a downward tendency than to any pressure to sell, he said.—Reuter.

Schenectady, New York, which also relays to Europe.

When the service is inaugurated it will be possible for a resident of Hongkong to converse with ninety per cent. of the 80,000,000 telephone subscribers in the world. Practically every country in the world, including Australia, India, South Africa, Canada, New Zealand, America and all European countries, will be brought in touch with the Colony.

No definite information is yet available regarding the proposed scale of charges from Hongkong to Manila or Shanghai, but it is thought that they will be in the vicinity of $20. The scale of charges from Manila to various centres in the world is as follows:

	First 3 mins.	Each min.	Adm. Min.
France with Monaco	$2.00	4.00
Java	12.00	11.00
Portugal	35.25	21.00
Australia	68.42	10.84
U. Britain, Ireland	32.45	10.84
Germany	30.00	10.00
United States (avg.)	35.00	11.25
Norway	32.75	10.95

Presumably Hongkong will also connect up with the Macao telephone station, already in operation, and with the proposed Canton station.

SAVING INDUSTRY.

COTTON SPINNERS TRY TO END COMPETITION

London, Oct. 12. The movement among the spinners of Egyptian yarns to prevent the cut-throat competition in the future is developing into a most important venture. The Bolton Master Cotton Spinners' Association is balloting on a scheme based on a new costing method.

It is believed that practically the whole of the Egyptian spinning section, wherein prices are already improving, will shortly be united to prevent "senseless price-cutting."

Representatives of the Master Cotton Spinners' Federation, headed by their president, Mr. W. H. Catterall, have already sent a deputation to Sir Horace Wilson and officials of the Board of Trade to discuss a scheme to restore prices to a more remunerative level. It is stated that the Federation is seeking the opinion of the Government as to the practicality of enforcing the wishes of the majority upon the minority.—Reuter.

BUCHAREST SCARE.

ASSASSINATION PLOT
RUMOUR UNTRUE

Bucharest, Oct. 12.

A scare was created by a newspaper story of an attempted assassination of King Carol today.

The report stated that someone had fired through the windows of the Bucharest Express, near Targoviste, believing King Carol was aboard. As a matter of fact, the King took an earlier train.

Enquiries revealed that the conductor of the train found several windows broken and in order to escape personal responsibility he fabricated the story of the train having been fired on. As King Carol's train was just ahead, public imagination completed a sensational story.—Reuter.

MONEY-LENDERS PETITION

OPPOSED TO NEW ORDINANCE

COUNSEL AT COUNCIL?

Legislative Council did not yesterday proceed with the proposed Ordinance designed to prevent imprisonment for debt to money-lenders, owing to the lodging of a petition on behalf of the money-lenders.

The nature of the submissions made in the petition are not known, no information being obtainable to-day.

It is understood, however, that the question is likely to be argued before the Committee of the Legislative Council by the legal representative of the money-lenders.

Past precedents have been established for this course of action.

Solicitors for the petitioners are Messrs. G.K. Hall Brutton and Company.

The Royal Observatory reports that the anticyclone now extends from North China north-eastwards to Hokkaido.

DIVORCE ORDINANCE

PROCLAMATION EXPECTED

BEFORE END OF MONTH

Almost buried in the long record of yesterday's Council proceedings was an announcement of considerable interest, perhaps.

The Colony's new Divorce Ordinance is to become law by Proclamation of H.E. the Governor on or before November 1.

The proclamation may be gazetted at any time in the next three weeks.

It is officially learned that there are already a number of petitions for divorce awaiting the time when it will be possible to institute proceedings.

INTERPORT COLLAPSE

COLFERS FAIL BADLY

LOSE ALL SIX SINGLES

Hongkong's interport golfers now in Manila had an astonishing experience yesterday at Calocan when they were defeated in all six singles matches against the Manila team.

The surprise is occasioned by the fact that the local side was regarded as the strongest ever sent to Manila and collapse was scarcely considered.

The players seem to have been defeated by unfavourable conditions. It was pouring with rain throughout the match and the course was practically waterlogged.

RESULT CERTAIN.

It seems impossible that Manila should fall to win the contest. They require only to half one of the matches in the four-ball games to-day to establish a margin of points. Both O. E. C. Martin and T. A. Pearce had unhappy experiences. The results were:

N.S. Wetherpoon beat O.E.C. Martin, 5 and 4.

Aplin beat T.A. Pearce, 5 and 4.

Captain A.V. Edie beat A.E. Lissaman, 2 and 1.

SOVIET COMMENT ON REACTION

JAPANESE DENIALS RIDICULED

CLUMSY ATTEMPTS

Moscow, Oct. 12.

Bitterness is increasing in Russia over Japan's attitude regarding the Soviet disclosures contained in the publication of the Hishikari documents.

Izvestia says that the sharp Japanese reaction to the revelations goes to show the complete embarrassment felt in interested circles.

Pravda asserts that the clumsy attempts of the Japanese imperialists to avoid the responsibility by subtleties and loud threats, are ridiculous.

C.E.R. CHAOS.

M. Rudy, the Soviet manager of the Chinese Eastern Railway, has notified the Railway Board of certain actions by the Manchurian assistant manager, Mr. Chian Minchie, which he asserts are illegal.

He refers specially to the revocation of the order appointing a Soviet citizen, M. Letvitsky, as chief of the depot at Manchuli on the Siberia-Manchurian frontier.

It is alleged that a nominee of the Manchurian party was placed in M. Letvitsky's stead after his arrest.

M. RUDY'S DEMANDS.

M. Rudy declares that the assistant manager is deliberately disorganising the working of the railway and he has requested the Board to take measures to protect the railway from police interference and to ensure its proper running.—Reuter.

Following are the "Hishikari Documents" published by the Soviet Government.

The first document bearing the title "Report of the Japanese Ambassador in Manchoukuo" to the Minister of Foreign Affairs, Tokyo, September 4, 1933, reads:—

"Beginning with the spring of the current year, Manchoukuo took a number of measures in connection with the C.E.R. problem. In order to prevent the driving away of the rolling-stock of the C.E.R., the station of Pogranichnaya was closed. With the purpose of turning to our advantage the course of the Tokyo negotiations for the purchase of the railway, a number of other measures were adopted recently. The Manchurian side does not wish to make public the fact that the above measures were undertaken with the object of bringing pressure to bear on the Tokyo negotiations, emphasising that those measures are of a purely domestic nature." On this basis, Manchoukuo intends to persist in:—

(a) Carrying out the laws of the Manchurian State and its plans in connexion with the C.E.R., and the whole organisation of the railway, in so far as the railway is under the sovereignty of Manchoukuo.

(b) Non-recognition of the clauses of the Mukden and Russian-Chinese treaties contradicting the principle of sovereignty of the Manchurian state; the clauses at variance with the general status of the C.E.R. as a commercial enterprise; clauses at variance with the present position of the C.E.R. and therefore, unacceptable. (All this has been already pointed out in the memorandum of Manchoukuo read at the conference in Tokyo.)

"The following has been outlined for realisation, as concrete measures:—

(a) To insist firmly on the introduction of reforms in the C.E.R. administration, on the establishment of stable tariff rates and on the conversion of the gold rouble unit into Manchoukuo currency. Also, that decisions on all questions within the competence of the manager of the railway should bear visas of the Manchurian assistant manager, failing which the manager's actions cannot be considered valid. It is imperative to insist that this declaration should be made to the Soviet side, and persist in its execution.

(b) Our police officers and prison authorities, are carrying out searches and detailed investigations into the activities of the Communist and Komsomol organisations, trade unions, and other illegal organisations finding shelter with the C.E.R. Resolute measures of suppression may be adopted against them depending on the substance of those organisations. A campaign is carried on everywhere against the Communist party. In view of the possible seizure of the railway, the mobilisation of employees of the railway and of the military police, and their tentative distribution, are carried out, as preliminary measures. Investigations are being made as regards the position of every Soviet employee of the railway, and also surprise raids on clubs and other public organisations of the C.E.R.

(c) In view of the frequent conflicts on the border, a resolute protest should be made against the illegal activities of the Soviet side.

ACTIVE MEASURES.

"As you know from our Consul-General in Harbin, the Manchurian Ministry of Ways and Communications is already following this line, having brought forward at the recent session of the C.E.R. board, the demand for equalisation of power of the manager and the assistant manager of the railway, and also the demand for the means of control over the activities of the Auditing Committee of the railway. On the 25th of the last month, a telegram was received from Ohashi saying that, in view of the delay in the Tokyo negotiations, it was desirable to adopt active measures of pressure. On this basis, a conference was convened on the 2nd of this month, attended by the officials of the Japanese orientation (heads of departments), and the military authorities. The Embassy was represented by Councilors Tanii and Hanaya. The conference took place in the State Council of Manchoukuo.

"In view of the arrival of the new chief of the Kwantung district, the conference discussed concrete measures for the future in connection with the revision of the previously adopted measures with regard to the C.E.R., since it was declared, on behalf of the Kwantung army, that, though we approve legal measures, nevertheless we consider the application of force inadvisable, and, at any rate, we deem it necessary to arrive at an agreement by all interested organs before using force.

MARTIAL LAW DECLARED

FIGHTING NEAR CAPITAL

Bangkok, Oct. 12.

Martial Law has been proclaimed and fighting is proceeding between loyal troops and two up-country battalions, who seized the aerodrome at Donmuang, 13 kilometres from Bangkok.

At the moment the inhabitants of Bangkok are quiet, though it is impossible to foresee how events may develop.

PRINCE AS LEADER.

It is understood that Prince Bovaradej, a member of the Royal Family, is the leader of the force which is marching on the capital. He is believed to have a strong armed force under his command.

OFFICIAL PROCLAMATION.

As a result of the revolt, communications have been paralysed and a censorship has been established.

An official Government communiqué announces their intention to suppress the revolt and to restore order, enjoining the populace to continue their peaceful pursuits.

The communiqué assures the Foreign Legations that there will be no danger to foreign residents or to their property.—Reuter.

TIN RESTRICTION ON JAN. 1

PRODUCTION QUOTA BE INCREASED

London, Oct. 12. The new international tin restriction agreement will come into force on the first of January next, the Financial Times from authoritative quarters in London. Assuming that the formal agreement still to be obtained from the governments of the Federated Malay States, Netherlands, India, Bolivia and Nigeria, is given, the agreement will operate for three years.

The committee is expected in London for a meeting to authorise as from January 1, an increase in the basic quota of production from the current 38 1/3rd per cent. capacity to 40 per cent.

Should the consumption continue to be satisfactory, a further increase to at least 50 per cent seems likely to be permitted from April 1.—Reuter.

Is Your's An Office Job?

Many office workers spend such long hours at their desks that they do not take enough exercise; indeed, they often are too tired to do so, for mental fatigue induces bodily fatigue.
With insufficient exercise it is not long before constipation sets in, and unless early measures are taken to counteract the trouble, illness may follow, for in the congested food tract disease germs flourish.
To the office worker and others engaged on sedentary jobs Pinkettes are invaluable; they stimulate the liver and digestive organs, thereby correcting constipation, biliousness, flatulence, headache, dizziness, and that tired feeling. Yet they are not habit-forming. At a couple or three at night occasionally are all you

Paris Fills Need for That Extra Frock
To Wear on Unexpected Occasions

RESORT MODELS HAVE HINT OF FORMALITY BUT CUT IS COMFORTABLE

By Rosette Hargrove.

Paris.—There is—always room, even in the most carefully planned wardrobe, for that extra light frock that belongs to no particular category and yet comes in so handy in the most unexpected ways.
The Parisian couturiers seem to sense this need and usually present, outside of the regular collections, a small number of late holiday frocks, or what they call resort models.

These resort models are different enough from beach or country dresses to make them stand out in a class by themselves. They have just the slightest hint of formality either in their fabric or in some detail, but their cut is easy and comfortable, as befits daytime holiday clothes. The skirts are rather longer than those of informal models and if they have no sleeves, the top of the arm is adequately covered. Most houses, however, favour some kind of sleeve for this sort of dress.

Jenny chose a beautiful shade of blue canvas-weave fabric for a resort dress for Madame Huguetette Dufles, a famous Parisian actress, to wear at Aix-les-Bains.
The yoke of the bodice ties in a bow and so does the yoke to which the flared skirt is attached. A frill of white organdy is placed under the overlapping bodice yoke and serves the double purpose of covering the top of the arm and widening the shoulder line. A wide-brimmed hat of blue pique to match the dress is trimmed with a sapphire blue velvet ribbon bow.

Then there are the charming faded, embroidered chiffon frocks that Chanel launched, which are just the thing for a lunch or informal tea-party in the country—or at a roadside inn.
These are cut on coat-dress lines, with skirts flaring gently at the hem, a tailored pocket on one hip.
The touch of fantasy is found in the threaded neckline ending in a loose tie and elbow sleeves with a sort of riving cuff attached.

Chanel does some very clever things with plain and striped linen, combining red-and-white or blue-and-white striped tulle with the white. One especially attractive model has a skirt made of six knoted sections meeting chevronwise at the seams with godet inserts of the plain fabric to give plenty of walking room. The lower part of the bodice is white and the upper part, forming a sleeveless bolero effect, ties at the de-collete in a jaunty bow. Double and full volant sleeves, with the white uppermost, complete an unusual and original number.

Schlaparelli favours a striped silk canvas for resort wear. She also likes plain, tailored lines so far as skirts are concerned and the original touch is supplied by the use of her broad elastic ribbon in vivid colour combinations, which also provides the necessary colour contrast demanded by the mode this year. Thus shanghai-red and white plaited elastic ribbon form the high-in-the-front and down in the back line that Schlaparelli is so fond of, on a white silk canvas frock, which has a softly-draped V effect to its bodice and cool, straight sleeves ending above the elbow. A Shanghai-red knotted cap or a wide-brimmed hat complete the dress equally well, according to the use required of it.

Accessories to accompany these dresses should be simple yet not too sportlike. White kid shoes and bags and "sunburn" stockings are always "right." Of course, there are some beautiful linen dresses and bag sets that are marvellous with linen dresses, but they are certainly to be classed in the de luxe category, as you can only wear them with one particular dress. The same is true of the delightful nique and organdie hats shown for summer wear. They are only elegant when perfectly fresh and crisp, and at the first sign of wilting should be sent to the modiste or discarded.

White or natural linen gloves, gloves of Irish lace, and the more formal all-organdie gloves can accompany a resort dress adequately and are at the same time very smart, but some women prefer to discard them altogether, which is also admitted by the leaders in chic and elegance.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

By Alicia Hart

Now is the time to plan your autumn beauty routine. Determine first what you need in the way of cosmetics and just what sort of treatments you will require.

If your skin has become tanned, freckled or rough during the summer, bleaches will probably be your first consideration. You will want to know whether you are going to need a weak or a fairly strong bleach.

If it is convenient, a good idea is to go to a beauty shop for a couple of bleaching and cleansing facials. These start you off right and then it is easier to continue the treatments right at home.

What about your hair? Has it become faded, dry or lifeless during the summer months? If the answer is "yes," you'd better map out a schedule for it, too.

Carefully consider massage treatments, hot oil shampoos and other aids to a healthy scalp and hair. You'll probably want to try a new coiffure this autumn, so make a careful study of new and becoming ways to dress your hair.

For the LOVE of EVE by Lucy Walling

CHAPTER XLVI

Dick was not at the boarding house when Eve arrived there. A servant answered the bell and invited Eve into the living room to wait for him. A moment later Mrs. Williams entered. Her blue eyes looked kindly and she settled herself for a chat but Eve neither disclosed the purpose of her visit or asked questions about Dick.

Presently Mrs. Williams excused herself and returned to the kitchen. Eve grew nervous and restless. Then she saw Dick's yellow roadster coming around the bend of the road. She sat stock-still. Dick stopped the car before the door and his companion—an attractive girl—stepped out, entered the house and passed down the centre hall.

Dick drove on but soon reappeared. A moment later he stood in the great arched doorway of the hall, staring at Eve.

"Why, Eve!" he cried. Plainly he was embarrassed and Eve immediately thought of the girl who had been with him.

"Well, this is a surprise!" Dick was saying.

Eve's composure left her. She began to cry and this only increased Dick's embarrassment.

"Not here," he said. "Come up to my room." He led the way to a large upstairs bedroom. It was a comfortable looking room—not at all as Eve had pictured life near a construction camp.

"You don't seem very pleased to see me," she said in a trembling voice.

"I'm surprised, that's all." "Well, you may as well know I saw you with your girl friend," she said accusingly. "I'm sorry now that I came."

Dick laughed. "You needn't be," he said easily. "I was out at the job this morning and picked her up on the way back. She's one of the teachers who live here and she was walking home from church. It wouldn't have been very polite to pass her by, would it?"

"It looked odd to me." "See here!" Dick said hotly. "I'll not be put on the defensive just for giving a person a lift."

"Oh, Dick—we're quarrelling again and I didn't want to."

He turned away from her and looked out of the window.

"Dick," Eve began timidly. He half-turned. "Dick, I was so lonely!" she added wistfully. He turned and she was in his arms.

Eve found the little town of Pine Forest enchanting. It had been settled by enterprising sons and daughters of New England pioneers, hence its architecture was strictly colonial. All of the houses were painted white. Some had green blinds. Grouped at the Four Corners were the important buildings—the town hall, one storey high and quaintly formed of cobblestones, a little cobbles-ton church, another church of wide white clapboards with a tall steeple, and a truly modern school house of red brick trimmed in white.

In the afternoon Dick took Eve for drive into the woodland. The unpaved road wound in and out among the trees, downhill and up, until they came to a clearing high above a lake. Below them the water, blue-black from the dense shadows, resembled a huge mirror, banked by foliage. Eve stood entranced and Dick's arm gently slipped about her.

"Like it, sweetheart," he asked. "It's heavenly," she answered softly.

That night she slept more soundly than she had slept for months and awakened refreshed and eager for the new day.

They took more trips into the woods in the days that followed. "To think," Eve said one evening, "that you have been enjoying all this while I've been cooped up in an office worrying about petty jealousies and having general grief!"

"You didn't have to, you know," Dick reminded her. "And you needn't go back."

"Oh, but I'm going!" she said, instantly regretting her outburst. "You don't think I'm going to be within sight of my goal and then not stay to have the glory, do you?"

"No," she continued. "Some of my acquaintances will sit up and take notice when June first comes and Dixie's announce the name of their new advertising manager!"

Dick had often spoken of his Aunt Sophronia and he had promised to take Eve to see her some day. Since Aunt Sophronia's home was not far distant they set out early Saturday morning and drove south through the mountains and foothills into the Cherry Valley.

They followed the turnpike over rolling farm country until they came to a little village nestled among the hills.

"Oh! It's another green and white village!" cried Eve. "That's just the sort of background I had imagined for Aunt Sophronia."

Dick smiled. Eve's enthusiasm always pleased him.

They drove into the yard before a small colonial cottage and parked the car. Then Dick pulled the old-fashioned bell and set its ring pealing through the house.

A tall, wiry woman dressed in tight-fitting black greeted them. "We are Aunt Sophronia's niece and nephew," Dick announced.

From an inner room a commanding voice called, "Send them in, Hannah! Send them in!"

Sophronia Rader greeted her nephew affectionately, then turned to peer at Eve who went forward and gracefully extended her hand.

"This is Eve, my wife," said Dick.

"Well glory be!" ejaculated the 90-year-old aunt. "I never expected to see you! Never expected Dick to marry in the first place. Bet you had to ask him."

Eve laughed. "Why, that's just what my grandmother said."

Aunt Sophronia and Eve became friends immediately. Eve's heart warmed to the aged woman who had broken a hip at the age of 80 and lived to continue her cheerful philosophy.

Looking about the room Eve's eyes brightened and she cried out, "Dick, look at that lovely whatnot—with spool turnings, too!"

Aunt Sophronia glanced around. "Humph—that old thing!" she said. "Why I've had it for 60 years. Neighbour gave it to me for helping her when she was sick. If you like it you can have it."

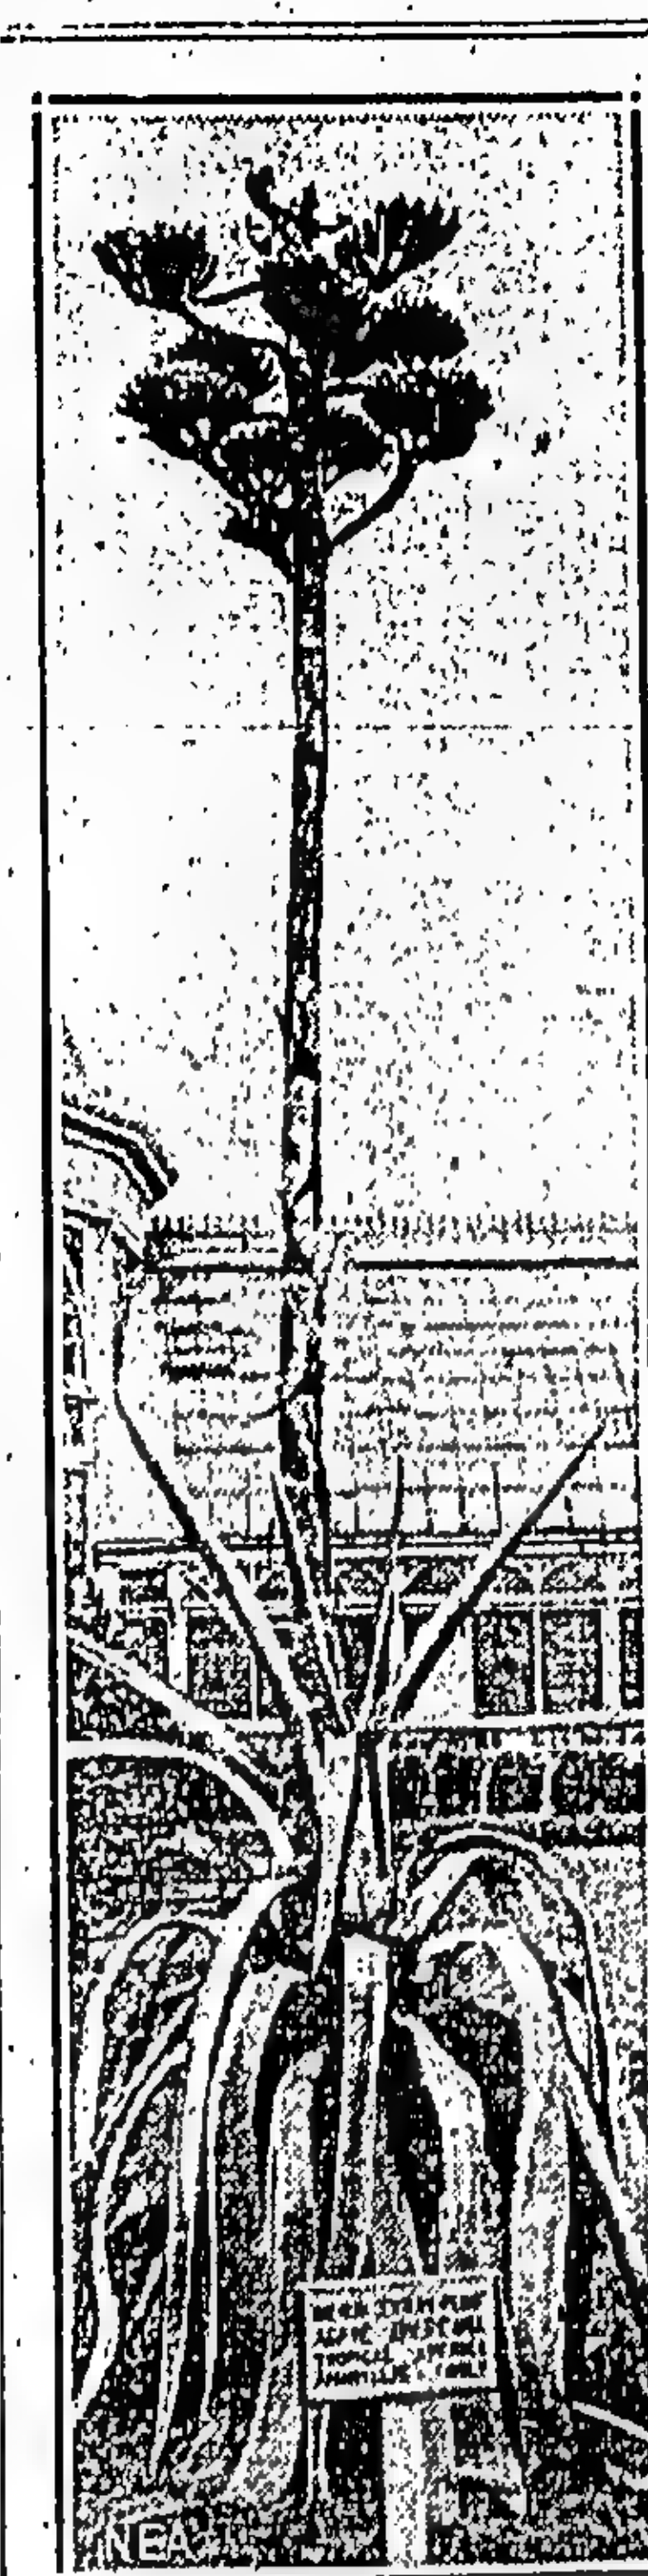

"Why, you darling!" Eve said and kissed her.

"So you like antiques, eh?" Aunt Sophronia said. "Well, I'm tired of them. Lived with them all my life. I like newfangled things better. But I have something I want to show you and if you like it you can have it too. It's old but it's right pretty. Hannah!" she called. But this time Hannah must have been in the basement for she did not answer.

"I don't know what's the matter with that woman," Aunt Sophronia complained. "I have such a time finding the right person for a companion. This one would be perfect but she has a cat. And everywhere that Hannah goes the kitty goes along. I'd like to get rid of the cat, but if the cat goes Hannah will follow. And then I'd have all the trouble of finding someone else."

Finally Hannah responded. "Go into my room and bring the upper drawer of the highboy to me," Sophronia said briskly. Hannah came back lugging the mahogany drawer. Dick rose to help and they set it on a chair before the aunt. The fragrance of violets rose from its depths as the white-haired (Continued on Page 13.)

ASSASSINATION PLOT RUMOUR UNTRUE

Bucharest, Oct. 12.
A scare was created by a newspaper story of an attempted assassination of King Carol to-day. The report stated that someone had fired through the windows of the Bucharest Express, near Targoviste, believing King Carol was aboard. As a matter of fact, the King took an earlier train. Enquiries revealed that the conductor of the train found several windows broken and in order to escape personal responsibility he fabricated the story of the train having been fired on. As King Carol's train was just ahead, public imagination completed a sensational story.—Reuter.

GLUT OF RUBBER.

HUGE PRODUCTION IF PRICES INCREASE

London, Oct. 12.
Rubber commodity and share markets this morning reflected the public interest in a meeting of industrial leaders.

The Chairman, Mr. Miller, today, declared that experience had clearly demonstrated that in the absence of a rubber restriction scheme and at a price of fourpence or fourpence-halfpenny a pound, the world output would soon rise to a million tons a year. Prices had been lowered to-day, but that was due more to a down-marking tendency than to any pressure to sell, he said.—Reuter.

healthy houses" by the ordinary action of private enterprise.

That was in 1876. Now, in 1933, the economists have been fattened on depression and are once more at the top of their form. They disagree, as they always have done and always will do, as to the duty of an economist. One man will write that it is the economist's business to study "human behaviour as a relationship between ends and scarce means"; another that economics is the study of "why we are well off as we are"; and a third will add the words "together with a consideration as to how we can make ourselves better off." What should the man in the street think of these people and of their science and craft? Until Mr. Keynes' ambition is realised and economists "become thought of as humble, competent people on a level with dentists," the ordinary chap must be very careful to distinguish between what economists "know" as economic facts, and what they "think" to be the social consequences of a given economic action. For in the first case the economist is nearly always right, whilst in the second case he is very often wrong.

In considering the statements of economists the public must sift out the fact from the fancy before they decide upon action, otherwise they may find that they have based a policy on "economic facts" which are only sociological suppositions.

INQUEST VERDICT

NO REFUSAL BY THE HOSPITAL

Evidence regarding the procedure adopted at the Government Civil Hospital for the admission of accident cases was given by Dr. G. H. Thomas, of the Medical Department, at the resumed enquiry yesterday into the death of a coolie, Chan Sze-wing, who died in the Government Civil Hospital after a fall from a motor lorry while in motion. The hearing was taken by Mr. Schofield, sitting as Coroner, at the Central Magistracy yesterday afternoon, assisted by the following jury—Messrs. J. B. Macdonald (foreman), F. H. Farnon and Taung Po-long.

At last Friday afternoon's hearing the driver, Lo Wing, and a fold, Li Luk, both alleged in evidence that when the injured man was taken to the Government Civil Hospital admittance was refused, and they were told to report the matter first to the Police.

Addressing the Court, Dr. Thomas said that as he was not present last week he had no knowledge whatever of what the driver stated, that he brought the patient to the hospital and was refused admittance. He was amazed when he read the account of the enquiry the following morning.

Mr. Schofield: I think it was a surprise to everybody.

Dr. Thomas said he asked the driver for particulars the next day. From his own point of view, Dr. Thomas said he admitted the man at 1.30 p.m. He was leaving to go to tiffin and at the hospital main gate he met the driver and the patient, who was lying unconscious on the lorry. He at once summoned a stretcher and removed him to the receiving room.

Dr. Thomas continued that what the driver told him was that at 12.30 p.m. on the day of the accident he stopped the lorry at the Queen's Road entrance of the hospital, which is some distance from the administrative buildings. He stated he saw someone but, whoever he saw, said Dr. Thomas, it was not a medical officer on duty or the wardmaster on duty. If the driver had made himself clear that he had an injured man at the Queen's Road entrance they would have sent a stretcher down. He might have only said, "I have got an injured man," but that was purely conjecture.

"What I want to say, sir is that in any serious cases, particularly accidents, it is our duty to take all cases. When this man was admitted at 1.30 p.m., he was taken in immediately."

Decensed Admitted.

Dr. Thomas then entered the witness stand. He stated the deceased was admitted at 1.30 p.m. He met him at the main gate, Hospital Road. The man was in the vehicle which brought him, and was unconscious. He was brought to the receiving room, his address taken, and then sent to the ward.

Witness examined him in the receiving room.

Mr. Schofield: When accident cases come to the hospital what are the standing orders?

Dr. Thomas: The patient goes to the receiving room first. There a wardmaster, always on duty, sends for the doctor on duty who then attends to the patient, if serious. If not serious he will instruct the wardmaster what to do. If the case is not serious enough to warrant admittance he is then dressed and instructed to return daily to have his wound dressed. If of any severity he is admitted, and then the wardmaster informs the Police. If he is admitted, no matter how trivial the injury, the wardmaster informs the Police he is admitted, and then the Police will come to make enquiries. We admit everyone who can, unless it is very slight.

"No wardmaster, or any other subordinate, is in authority to refuse admittance to such cases. The refusal to admit is decided on only by the medical officer. If the case is not serious and we are overcrowded we send them by ambulance to the Tung Wah Hospital, with a chit written by the doctor. Where the cases involve Police Court proceedings they are not so dealt with."

Lo Wing, the driver, said that the deceased was first taken to the hospital before he made the report to the police. He took the injured man to the Queen's Road entrance, and went up with three folk to make enquiries. In the receiving room he saw a man writing at a table and told him he had brought an accident case, but the man refused admittance saying he had to report the case to the police first. On October 7 he did not make a statement to Dr. Thomas. Dr. Thomas only asked him whether he could recognise his folk.

Leo Yu-chauk, the wardmaster, denied he had refused admittance to any accident case that morning. He had never seen the last witness that morning.

This concluded the evidence, and after Mr. Schofield had summed up the case, the Jury brought in a verdict of death by misadventure.

The foreman said they were satisfied the hospital authorities had explained the position very adequately, and they were not in any way responsible for the refusal of admittance.

Paris, Oct. 12.

The expenditure of a sum equivalent to £50,000,000 sterling is outlined in a nation-wide programme for public works in connexion with plans for financial recovery.

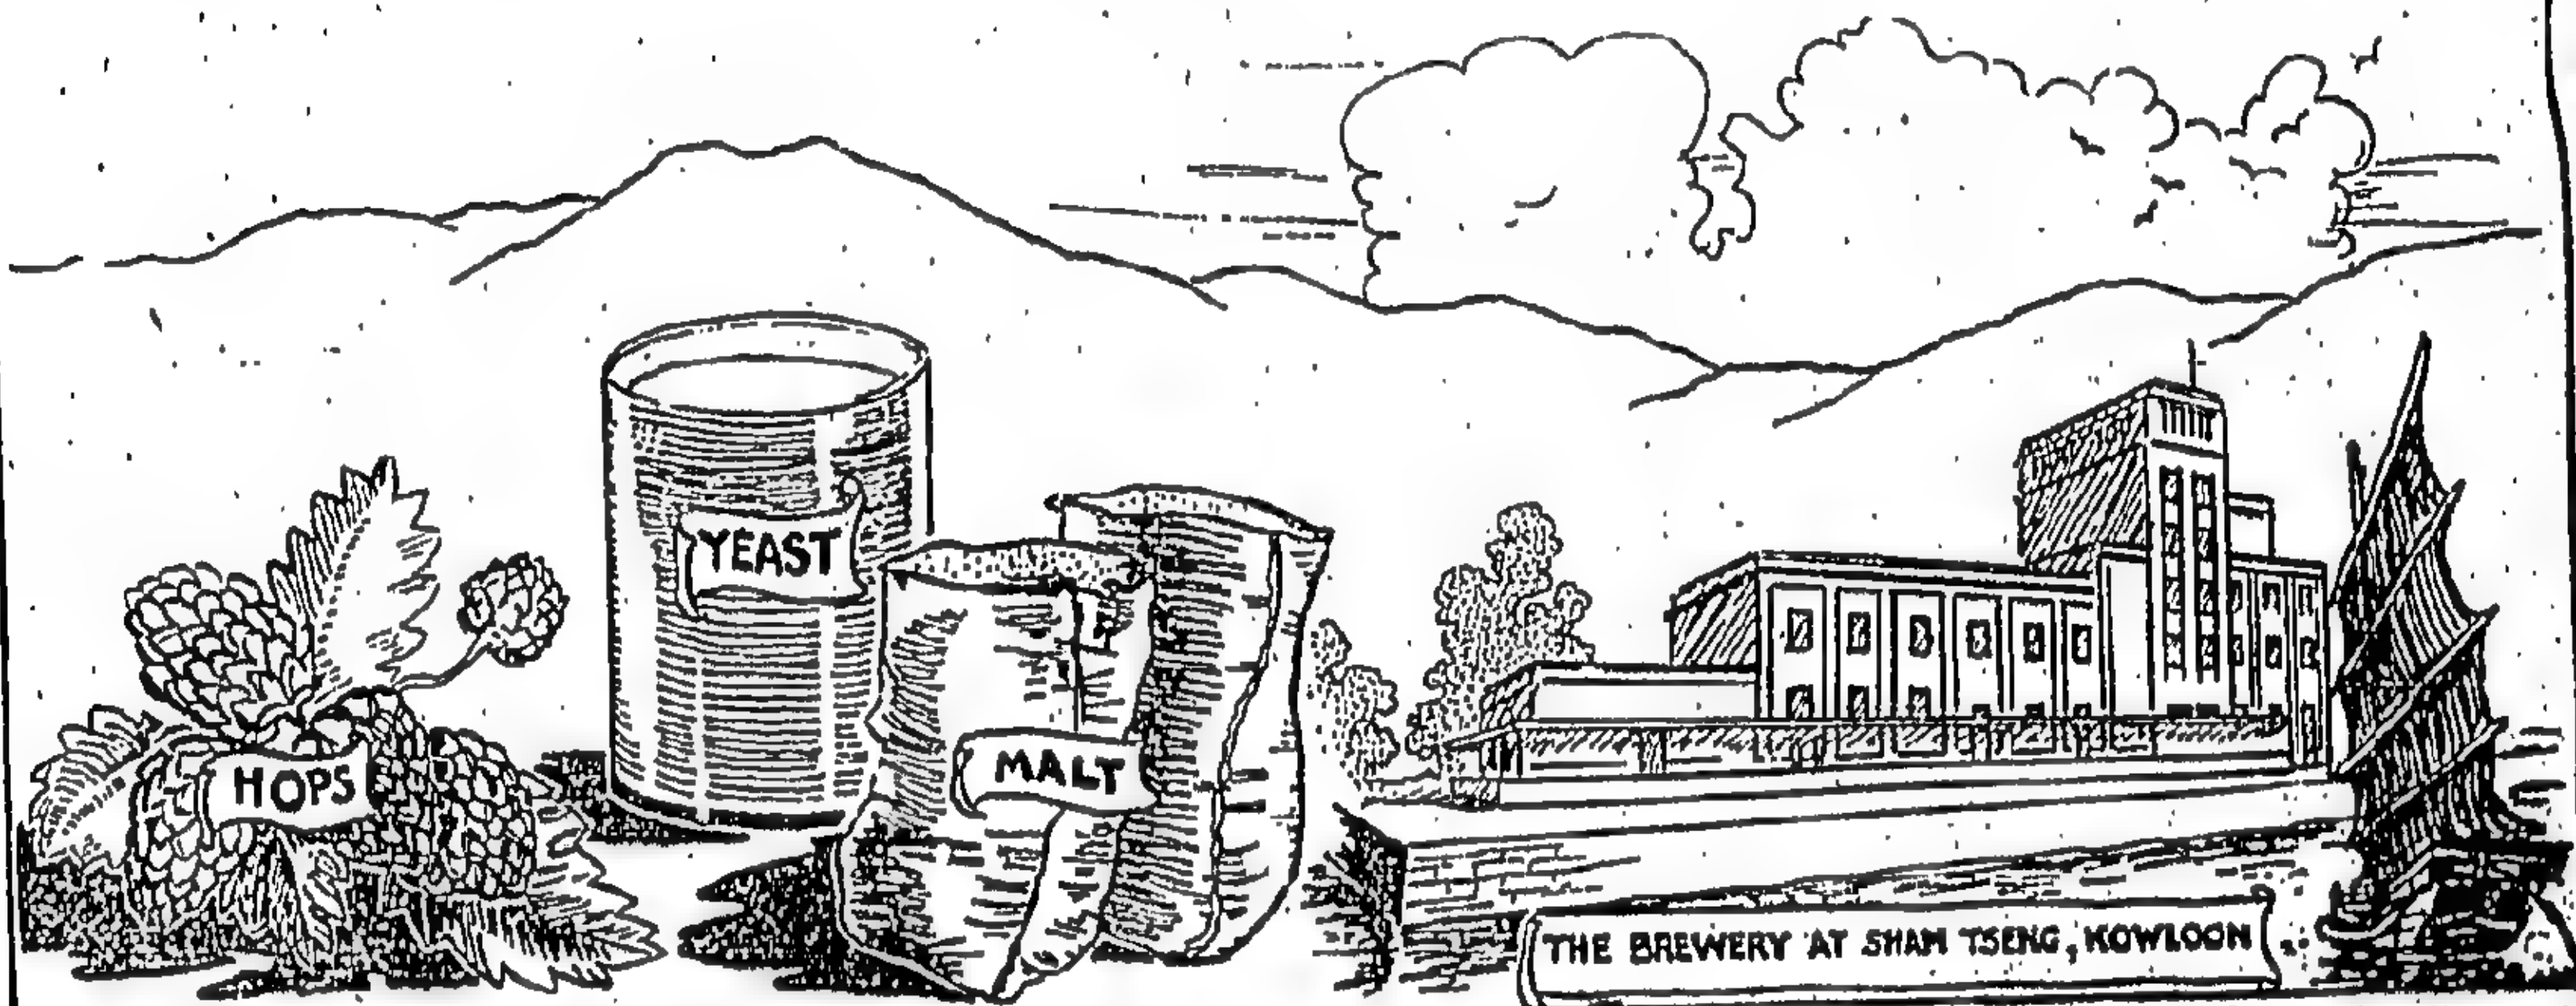

The scheme somewhat follows the present American plan. It provides for a minimum wage rate and a reduction in working hours in order to spread employment.

THE BUDGET DEBATE

Unofficial members of Legislative Council earned the thanks of the community yesterday. The Budget debate was highly instructive and helpful, getting down more closely than has sometimes been observed to matters of widespread public interest. In the result, the debate reached a high standard, the Officials being inspired to a little more earnestness in their replies, implanting more colour and enabling the onlooker to obtain a better picture of Government aims and policies. A better appreciation is gained of the difficulties and problems of administration and with improved understanding, the tendency to criticism is modified. No small thanks are due to His Excellency the Governor, whose survey covered the ground in almost model form and, moreover, with delightful freedom in the main from indications of the Official Mind. The Budget, in fact, looks better after a criticism and explanation than it did on the first reading, although some of the matters reviewed without strictly belonging to the Budget were more important. It was satisfactory, for instance, to obtain a definite assurance that the present state of affairs in the local passenger transport field are not to be permitted to continue indefinitely. The warning given the bus companies is one that cannot be ignored; the Government are committed to serious efforts to effect an all-round improvement. Sir Henry Pollock also expressed the feeling of the community in his attack on Government idleness in connection with the Central British School. The explanation must, perhaps, be accepted for what it is worth, although it suggests rather that the P.W.D. is so bound up in red tape that it cannot be hurried. It will be admitted that time must be given for site formation though it may be observed that the most complex sites are chosen with astonishing consistency whenever an important piece of work is required to be done. It will be a long time in fact before the P.W.D. is forgiven for changing the original site to make room for a Mental Hospital that is not nearly so urgent, with the re-

NOTES OF THE DAY

WATER SUPPLY

The ideal of making the local water supply self-supporting is one which naturally commends itself as only reasonable. Where special and expensive efforts are necessary to guarantee any supply at all, it is a corollary that the public should expect to pay more than in centres where problems are negligible. At the same time, we doubt if H.E. the Governor's hint that an end may come to free water will be received with anything but alarm even if it is practicable, which is questionable. It would, perhaps, be fairer to await further details before commitment to condemnation, but, in the meantime, it may be pointed out that the Colony is paying pretty well through the nose for its existing service, having regard to its irregularity. Next year's budget provides for revenue of $2,000,000 in direct payments for water and to that figure has to be added the quota credited to water under the heading of assessment taxes. Even taking into account all the capital spent on reservoirs and to be spent at Shing Mun, the return does not seem unhandsome.

TRADE OUTLOOK

The Hon. Mr. Kotewall's plea for a spirit of confidence, during his Budget speech yesterday, will be received sympathetically. There is little ground for optimism in commercial circles at present, however; trade is steadily declining and, as Government concessions, there is little that can be done locally to improve the situation. We are dependent upon the realisation in Canton, China generally, indeed, that there is a stage where increased customs duties result in decreasing revenue, and upon the world outside for a boost in business all round. Hongkong can help itself in one way only, namely, continuing to spend. Economy is not wise at all times; if every individual member of the community drew in his financial horns at the same time, even existing business would be impossible handicapped.

AUSTRIA'S FUTURE

Austria has plainly begun a new chapter in its checkered history. It has joined the ranks of Fascist dictatorships. But it is well to make distinctions, for various brands of Fascism have cropped up in Europe and are altering into distant lands. While exact details of the new system of government are not available, sufficient evidence is at hand to show that it leans decidedly toward the Italian. The head of Mussolini, if not the hand, is seen in the structure of the new state, which has been erected upon a corporative basis and under "authoritative" leadership. It was apparently not for a mere exchange of conversations that the Austrian Chancellor visited the Italian Premier at an Adriatic seaport a few weeks ago. Under the new system class strife is to disappear. Political parties are never to be restored. The epoch of liberalism has ended. Patriarchal cooperation is to form a vital part of the new constitutionalism, and the participants in each enterprise are to work harmoniously together and constitute a unit in the new order. These are striking changes, striking not for Austria alone but for Europe, where a great political transition is being effected chiefly as a result of the economic disorganization.

TO BENEFIT?

Does Austria stand to benefit by the change? The answer is not so difficult as might appear. Italy has gained temporarily at least by Fascism. Even those who hope to see Italy eventually achieve self-government recognise that the present system is better than that which preceded it. This is largely so because Mussolini knew when to apply the brakes. He placed a restraining hand upon excesses. Is not this, then, the direction in which the test for Dr. Dollfuss will lie? His ability to govern his country with moderation will probably determine the success of his new venture. He starts out firmly opposed to anything which savours of union with Germany. He wants his country free and independent. At the same time, he harbours no enmity against the neighbouring German state. That is a significant beginning.

It is a well-prepared and suitable site now lies vacant and may remain so for some years to come. Apart from this, there is little in the official explanations of various points raised at which to cavil. The stock-taking has cleared away many cobwebs.

THE ECONOMIST IN HUMAN SOCIETY

Rival Gangs of Practitioners

By STEPHEN KING-HALL

IF on September 8, 1827, one of your ancestors had felt rich enough to spend the sum of sevenpence on a copy of The Evening Standard, he would have read these words in the leading article: "Henry Drummond, Esq., of Albury Park, Surrey, was two years ago fool enough to found in the University of Oxford a professorship of political economy. There is no such science. All persons who profess this non-existing science and practise quackery under its name are mischievous. There can never be a science of political economy, of true political economy, there is but one system—the Bible." There is a great deal of sound economic teaching in the Bible and some very interesting economic history. You will recollect that Pharaoh, King of Egypt, had a nightmare and that he sent for Joseph, expecting no doubt to hear some psycho-analysis. But Joseph—like many a Jew since—was an economist, and he gave Pharaoh a brief lecture on the trade cycle and the sequence of boom and slump. He went further, and, with a courage which Mr. Keynes would applaud, he recommended a policy.

It was a proposal to inflict a planned economy on the Egyptians in the shape of a far-reaching degree of State intervention into economic life, including State control of one-fifth of the arable land. Mr. Walter Elliott's plans to make bigger and better British farmers are "very small beer" compared with Joseph's ambitions. And what is more, Joseph got away with it, whereas Walter . . . well, it looks to me like an even money bet at the moment of writing. To go back from 1933 to B.C. 2,000 odd, not only did Pharaoh accept Joseph's "Seven Year Plan," but he entrusted the Hebrew with its execution so that Joseph rode in the second chariot, "and they cried before him, Bow the knee; and he (Pharaoh) set him over all the land of Egypt. And Pharaoh said unto Joseph, I am Pharaoh, and without thee shall no man lift up his hand or foot in all the land of Egypt."

Truly those were great days for the science of political economy, and the members of the British Government's Economic Advisory Council have not yet been allowed to ride in the second motor-car on State occasions. In fact, I suspect that ever since its formation this Council has been lost in the Underground. One last word about the economics of Holy Writ. It is laid down in Deuteronomy xv, verses 1 and 2, that "At the end of every seven years thou shalt make a release. And this is the manner of the release: every creditor shall release that which he hath lent unto his neighbour; he shall not exact it of his neighbour and his brother."

Unfortunately, Congress seems to have ignored these wise observations (hence the American Bank collapse and concentrated on the next verse in Deuteronomy xv, which reads as follows: "Of a foreigner thou mayest exact it; but whatsoever of thine is with thy brother thine hand shall release."

Events will, I suggest, prove to Congress that nowadays we are all "neighbours and brothers" in the economic sense.

This reflection brings me to the question of the position of the economist in human society. The status of the economist depends upon the degree of well-being of the economic system. When the world is sick, as it was soon after the Napoleonic Wars; as it has been since 1919; and as it probably will be in 1940, men cry aloud for their economists. With spoonfuls of nauseous remedies of a deflationary character, one school of economists gather round the hard and lumpy bed which men have made for themselves during war years. Some of the foul medicine is forced down the patient's throat.

A rival gang of practitioners, whom the orthodox describe as pseudo-economists—the orthopaths and homeopaths of economic teaching—assure the invalid that the violent purges administered by the orthodox practitioner are out of date, and that recovery can and must be achieved through the stimulus of a few injections of inflation. Yet the patient has faith and says firmly: "Prosperity is just round the corner," and the corner will disappear.

From one cause or another—probably from the innate vitality of man's economic system, which survives both inflation and deflation—a recovery sets in. The slump passes away and is forgotten in the joy days of the boom, of rising prices. The company promoter blows his brightly-coloured bubbles, which float invitingly into the hands of the clamorous public. From New York comes the glad news: "The tape is behind the floor." It is roses, roses all the way. This is when the orthodox economists shrink back into their academic obscurity like dais driven off at the dawn of day. The merry markets and the frisky bulls pay no attention to the lugubrious hoot of the wise owls, that after the day comes once again the darkness.

There is, in fact, a time when the economists slump very badly in the early 'Eighties, as may be seen from the proceedings at a famous dinner of economists held in 1876 in honour of the centenary of the birth of Adam Smith. The keynote of the speeches was a profound pessimism as to the utility of economists. Mr. Gladstone, the principal guest, whilst fearing that economists had almost exhausted their usefulness, admitted that perhaps some work still remained to be done in the matter of currency reform.

Mr. Newmarch, the Treasurer of the Political Economy Club, believed that the future role of economists must be that of producing the "important and beneficial effect" of "reducing the functions of government within a smaller and smaller compass." He fulminated against "the erection of one Government department after another . . . one set of inspectors after another . . . the whole time of Parliament being taken up in attempting to do for the nation (Continued on Next Column.)"

The Very Idea!

TALK OF LUCK.

By Eddie Kelly, Man Friday.

WE want to warn all our Public about being careful to-day. We never thought about it ourself until we sprang out of bed this morning and bumped our big toe on the bed post. And then we remembered.

Readers, do you know what to-day is? Do you know what could happen to you to-day?

Take a look at the day and date at the top of this page, and then see if you can refrain from shivering.

Anything could happen to-day. Quite likely our account will be finally stopped at the hotels, our wife will find out where we were on Tuesday night; our boss will decide that now is the time to reduce our salary, or our beer might go sour.

You can never tell what tragedies will happen on Friday the 13th.

Not that we are superstitious. We can walk under a ladder with the best of them, and if a black cat walks across our path we kick it out of our way. In fact, where superstition is concerned, we feel as reckless as a Japanese general who sends his washing to a Chinese laundry.

But there's one thing we do buck at, and that's a Friday when it falls on the thirteenth. That's the day we were married.

OUR ANNIVERSARY

The Very Idea celebrates its birthday to-day, so just to see what kind of a damfool we've made of ourself during the past twelve months we've been throwing up some of our best work for the Telegraph.

In view of the fact that Christmas isn't far off, we now take this opportunity of apologising to everybody whom we've insulted. We're sorry about all the rude things we've said about prominent people in this Colony. We're sorry about all the puns we've tried to inflict on you. In fact, we're sorry Eddie Kelly was ever born.

One voice arose in angry protest at the suicidal tendencies of his fellow economists. The great Javona declared: "There are still great possibilities for us in the future. We need," he continued, "a science of the money market and of commercial fluctuations which shall inquire why the world is all activity for a few years and then all inactivity." He also expressed the view that "the great mass of the people will not . . . (Continued on Page 5.)"

KOWLOON BUS COMPANY SUMMONED

FAILING TO KEEP TO SCHEDULEKOWLOON TONG USERS
TAKE ACTIONTWENTY MINUTES WAIT

"If your bus services conform to the terms of your contract these occasions won't arise. I must make it quite clear that the terms of that contract has got to be carried out. I have to look after the public interests," said Mr. Wynne-Jones at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning when he imposed fines totalling $40 on Mr. W. S. T. Loney, manager of the Kowloon Motor Bus Company Ltd., on two summonses for failing to maintain a proper schedule on the No. 7 route (Star Ferry to Kowloon Tong, via Homantin) on October 2 and 5 last.

Defendant pleaded guilty. Prosecuting, Traffic Sub-Inspector Saunders, said: "With regard to October 2, the summons was taken out because of complaints by Mr. Fleming and Mr. A. W. Smith, of Kowloon Tong. Both complained they waited at the Star Ferry terminus at 12.35 p.m. until one o'clock, for a bus to take them on the No. 7 route. There is supposed to be a bus every ten minutes, and they say there were thirty or forty people waiting for the bus, and they had to wait just over twenty minutes. I took out the summons against the defendant for Mr. Smith."

RAINING HEAVILY.

Mr. Smith: It was raining heavily too, at the time, your Worship.

S. I. Saunders: On October 5, I myself was at the Star Ferry taking a check of the various bus routes. One bus left for the No. 7 route at six minutes past five and the next bus left at 5.30, which is 24 minutes later. There were fully fifty people waiting at the time.

Defendant: With regard to the summons of October 2, we had a number of buses laid up and six were up for inspection that morning. At eleven o'clock Sergeant Serim sent two buses off the road because of excessive exhaust smoke.

MIGHT BE SERIOUS.

The magistrate: I gather it is part of the condition of your monopoly for you to keep sufficient buses and that you keep the buses which are on the routes in an efficient condition. Running a public service like this, a delay of twenty minutes might be very serious indeed. All sorts of people use the buses. I myself use the bus and people attending this Court do. A man might get into very serious trouble from me if he does not appear in time.

Defendant: In connection with the summons for October 5, following a lot of correspondence in the Press regarding the inadequacy of the bus service, the D.S.P. (K) instructed us to put on larger buses on the No. 7 route during the rush hours. This meant taking buses off other routes and it became a muddle.

The magistrate: I am afraid you must prevent that muddle. I cannot accept that as an excuse.

DIRTY BUSES.

Two further summonses against Mr. Loney for failing to maintain two buses, Nos. 115 and 97 in a proper state of cleanliness on September 27, were then proceeded with. The defendant admitted the offences.

Sergeant Serim said the buses had not been swept. Bus No. 115 had just left the Shamshuipo terminus when he boarded it and made an inspection. He found cigarette ends, spit, ticked ends and dust. Two cleaners who were supposed to have swept the bus were seated on a log.

Mr. Wynne-Jones: Twiddling their thumbs!

Regarding bus No. 97, the Sergeant said he stopped it near the Kowloon City Police Station, and found similar conditions of uncleanness. The conductor told him that the sweeper had no time to sweep the vehicle as he was working on the radiator.

Mr. Wynne-Jones—I think you will have to get after your sweepers, Mr. Loney. Fined five dollars on each summons.

EUROPEANS IN TRAFFIC CASESCROSSING THE WHITE LINES

Two Europeans figured in motor cases before Mr. Schofield at the Central Magistracy this morning. They were Mr. A. P. Glanville, of the P.W.D., and Mr. R. Schmidt, of 'Caelon' Pokfulam, who were summoned for not keeping to the left hand side of Upper Albert Road.

Traffic Sergeant Brittain said defendants cut the corner at the top of Arbuthnot Road on the wrong side of the white lines.

DANGEROUS DRIVING.

Mr. J. T. Prior, appearing for Mr. Lam Wing-yin, a motor agent, summoned for dangerous driving in Queen's Road, tendered a plea of not guilty, and hearing was fixed for 12 noon on October 17. Traffic Inspector Alexander said that on the night of September 21 a car driven by defendant overtook another car on the left side proceeding in an easterly direction in Queen's Road. The defendant then turned up Garden Road, and in so doing cut in front of the other car, causing the driver to swerve and apply his brakes to avoid a collision.

EXCESSIVE SPEED.

Wong Yat, a lorry driver, was fined $20 for having driven at an excessive speed in Queen's Road Central.

Traffic Inspector Alexander said the lorry was being driven at 25 miles an hour. There were four coolies in the back of the lorry, and it was rather dangerous for them as only one side board was up.

SEVEN IN A TWO-SEATER.

Chan Yu, a private car driver, was summoned for not having full control of his car in Queen's Road Central, and was fined $5.

Traffic Inspector Alexander said that it was a small two seater, and there were altogether seven persons in it, four being in the dickey seat. The driver had difficulty in controlling the car.

Another driver had, in fact, complained to him about this car before he met defendant driving it.

CUBA ASKS FOR FAIRPLAYPRESIDENTS' APPEAL TO AMERICA

Havana, Oct. 7. President Grau San Martin in a statement to American newspapers to-day appealed to the people of the United States for fair play and to permit him to give Cuba a new and honest government.

"We must restore peace in the Island and make certain that the people are to have genuine democracy and justice," the President said.

President San Martin said that certain American financial concerns with heavy investments in Cuba had, been definitely unfriendly toward Cuba.

ATTACKS ON WOMEN.

With the aid of Communist agitation and disturbances, which caused deaths and injuries to six others yesterday, the possibility of racial trouble now looms. Reports were received by the police to-day that several white women had been insulted in the streets.

CHEERFUL STOCK
MARKETSRESPOND TO TRADE FIGURES

London, Oct. 12. Following the excellent overseas trade figures for September, the Stock Markets presented a cheerful appearance, and advances in prices registered when business closed were almost general under the lead of gold, iron and steel and textiles.

British Government stocks finished firm under the influence of the rapid success of the South African Loan, for which lists for cash subscriptions were closed five minutes after opening. It is assumed there has been a substantial over-subscription. War Loan finished at 101½. —British Wireless.

INFLATION
CONDEMNEDMR. GREEN WINS FIGHT IN LABOUR CIRCLESSCOURGE OF THE STRIKES

Washington, Oct. 12. Opposition to any unrestrained inflation of the currency was formally voiced at the American Federation of Labour Convention to-day.

Six hundred delegates unanimously approved the report of the committee, warning against any currency action that would add additional unbearable burdens on the workers.

While President Roosevelt's intervention is being sought to end the strike scourge, the task of reorganising the N.R.A., is proceeding apace, and conversations have been held between Messrs. Johnson, Wallace and Peek with a view to co-ordinating the methods of the N.R.A., and the farm administration.

Later, it is indicated, commerce and the departments of labour, justice and agriculture will share in the administration of the recovery programme.

MR. GREEN RE-ELECTED.

With the rejection by the Union of the Mine Workers' Association of the proposal to enlarge the Executive Council of the Federation of Labour, Mr. Green has survived the test of his leadership of the Federation of which he has been re-elected President.

Meanwhile the four basic industries of motion pictures, retailers, wholesalers and building are still without codes and General Johnson has extended the date whereby all industries must be brought under the code from November 1 to December 1.

GOLD HOARDERS.

Another drive against owners of gold who have failed to register their holdings is announced by Mr. Cummings, who asserts that criminal proceedings will be instigated against all hoarders with over $100, which limit is allowed under President Roosevelt's proclamation. —Reuter.

PRESIDENT'S WARNINGS.

New phases of America's war on the depression cover a wide field of activity and include a sharp Presidential warning to recalcitrant industrialists and noisy labour leaders, the formation of a new agricultural credit organisation and the compilation of the final report of the State Department on the possibilities of economic as well as political of Russian recognition.

The President's warning made it plain that the recovery programme is not to be eased and that some employers of labour will be "lashed and corralled" if necessary. Capital and Labour are both warned by the President that their troubles must be placed in the background until the fight against depression is won.

"This is no time to seek special privileges and advantages,"

LABOUR HOTHEADS.

He also referred to the labour "hotheads who think results can be gained by noise and violence," and said they should join the majority of working people who were helping to pull the country out of its trouble.

The President took occasion to warn industrialists "who think in terms of dollars and cents instead of human lives."

"Most of our employers realise the dangers of the situation that confronts the country but a few of the recalcitrants must be corralled," he said.

TRADE WITH RUSSIA.

In the State Department, meanwhile Mr. Cordell Hull, Mr. W. C. Bullitt, Mr. Harry F. Payer, Mr. Robert Kellogg and other assistants drafted what may be the final report on the political, economic and diplomatic results that may be expected to follow recognition of Soviet Russia.

The report to President Roosevelt as filed contained a survey showing that it is entirely possible that Russia will make purchases in the United States totalling $350,000,000.

The legal phases connected with the process of establishing diplomatic and trade relations were also set forth in the report. The report is said to consist of a compilation of facts and contains no recommendation for or against recognising Russia.

RETURNED WOMAN

BANISHEE

LIAISON WITH TWO EUROPEANS

Lo Sam, a married woman, charged before Mr. Schofield, at the Central Magistracy this morning, with having returned from banishment, was remanded 24 hours in Police custody to find a surety of $250 for her good behaviour.

The defendant said that, according to Chinese reckoning her term of ten years had expired. She returned for medical treatment.

Sub-Inspector Nollath said that defendant came to the police station and made a report that she was being pressed by a man for the return of some money. She was sent out by a Chinese detective, who recognised her. Her finger prints were taken, and she was found to be a returned banishee.

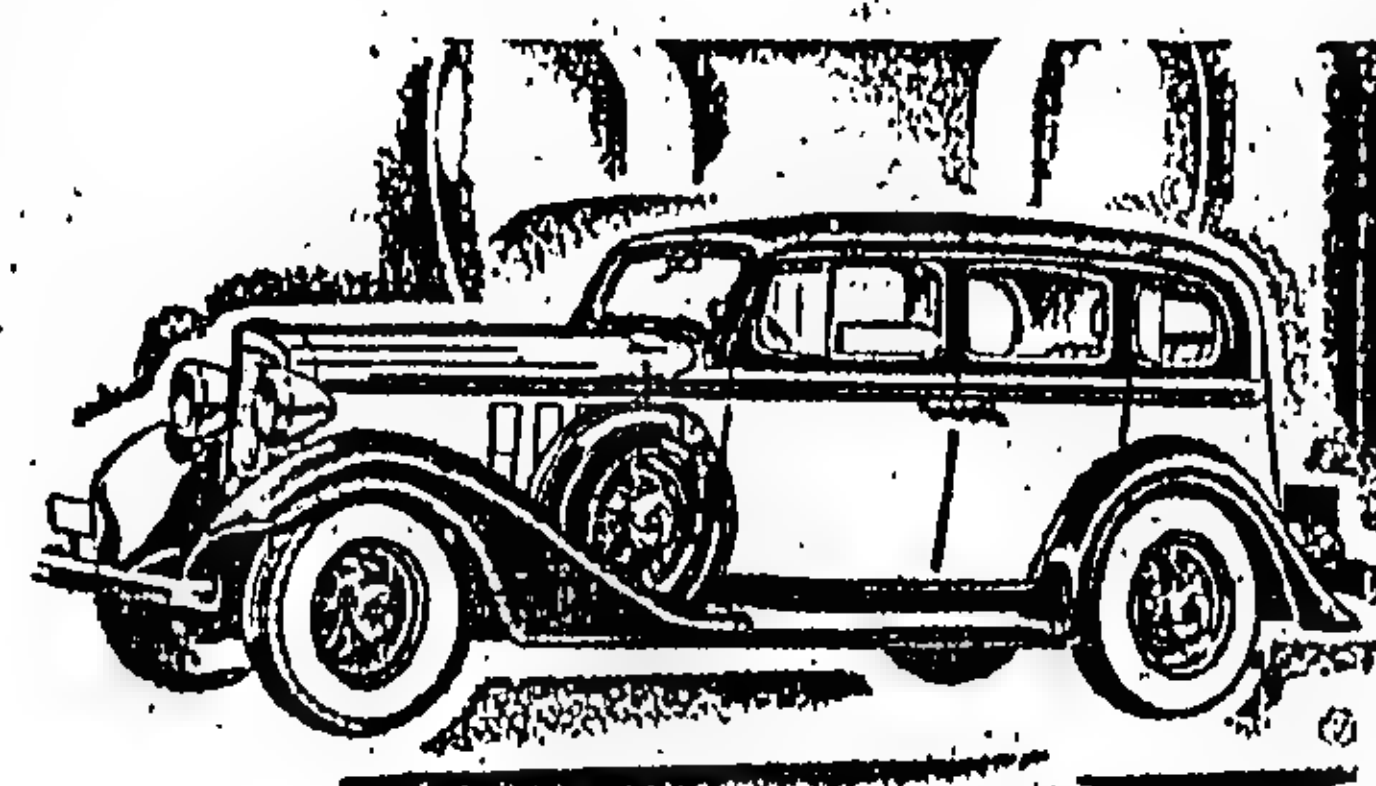

She had been kept by an European until June last, when he had died, and was then kept by another European. She was confidentially banished in April ten years ago, and her term expires in April next. A sum of about $1,000 had been left by the European who had died. She had hired the furniture, and when the man (who was pressing her for the money) heard she was arrested as a returned banishee, he had decided to seek remedy in the Supreme Court. She was a nurse by profession.

Mr. Schofield—The question is whether a sentence of imprisonment would affect the claim.

Sub-Inspector Nollath said that they were not pressing the case, because her time had nearly expired.

DE LUXE SEDAN

IT NOT ONLY LOOKS LIKE A BIG, BEAUTIFUL, COMFORTABLE CAR—IT REALLY IS.

In an article so much used as a car, comfort—real riding and driving comfort—is of no small importance.

With its 110 inches wheelbase and 2,820 pounds weight, this 4-door Sedan has the size and weight that tend to give more comfort for everybody in the car—and weight and size make for safety, too.

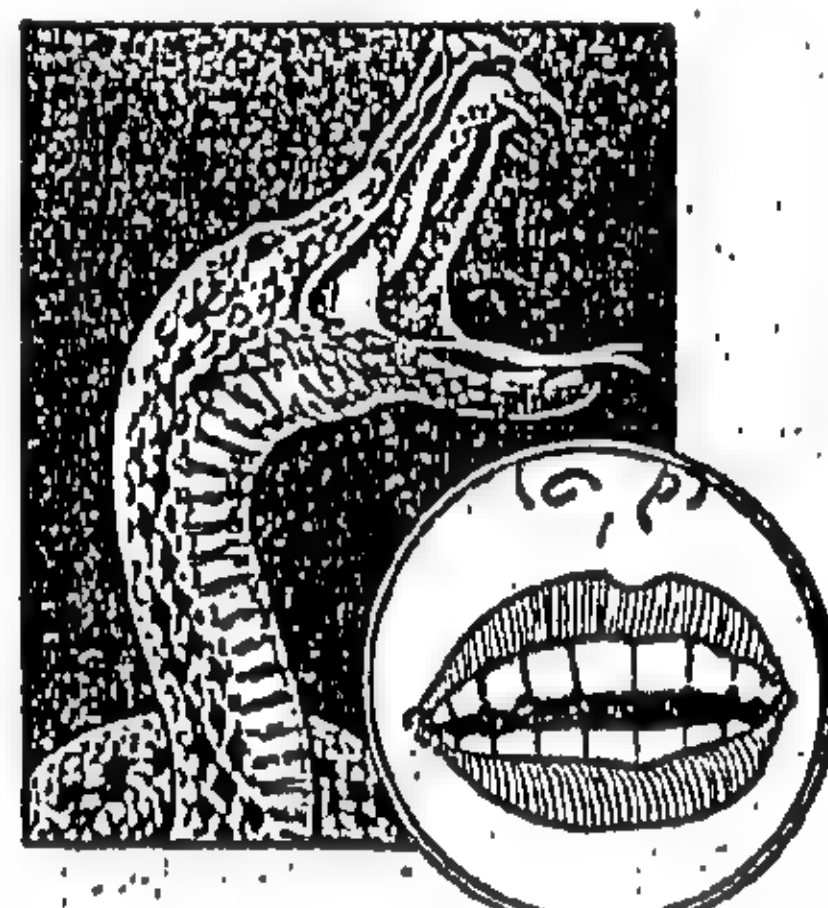

Yet it is an Economy Car and cost no more to run than many smaller cars. This luxurious Sedan is a typical Chevrolet Value.

HOCKEY TALENT

Goal. Miss Harris Walker was included in a few games last year, an appearance being in the Champions v West match, but she did not impress. Miss Thorpe, one of the newcomers to the Club, is a good choice for the right back position.

THERE is an emergency committee meeting of the Mamak tournament this evening to consider whether four Naval teams which have just returned from their summer cruises shall be permitted to take part in the tournament as they did not make application prior to the date fixed for the close of entries. The teams affected are H.M.S. Wishart, H.M.S. Keppel, H.M.S. Whitehall and H.M.S. Veteran. Their absence from the Colony placed them in rather a difficult position, but in view of the fact that the Mamak season has only just commenced I see no reason why the committee should turn down their applications.

THE committee will also consider the future of the Mamak Shield which is at present on their hands. The trophy was withdrawn from competition last year and there is little hope of it being restored for competition.
The suggestion, I understand, is to approach Mr. Mamak with the view to his taking it back. I would make another suggestion.—
That the Radio Sports Club, the present holders, be permitted to keep the trophy.

SCHOOL SOCCER.Diocesan Boys Heavily Defeated.

Queen's College engaged the Diocesan Boys' School in a friendly soccer game yesterday, and won handsomely by five clear goals.

The game was evenly contested, with each side attacking in turn, untill one of the Diocesan School defenders accidentally scored Queen's first goal.

Playing with better understanding during the latter part of the game, the Queen's College forwards soon outwitted the opposing defenders, and added four more goals, the final score being five to nil.

C.B.A. DRAWWell Held By Club do Recreio

In a fast friendly hockey match played on the home ground at King's Park yesterday afternoon, the Central British Association drew with the Club do Recreio, each side netting one goal.

The C.B.A., who played without the services of Francis, took the lead in the first half through T. S. D.
Whitely. Towards the close of the second period N. Beltrao beat Gurevitch on a rebound shot, and equalised.

ST. ANDREW'S BEAT INDIANS.

Their opponents, the University, failing to turn out, the St. Andrew's Club were opposed to a scratch team from the Hongkong Indians Male Corps who sportingly turned out on the Marina ground yesterday, at short notice.

An enjoyable game ensued, the Saints emerging winners by two goals to nil, the scorers being J. T. R.
Gilchrist and C. E. Wong. The Saints forwards combined well, G. H. White putting in some splendid work on the right wing.

The Radio Sports Club defeated the H. K. S. Indian Brigade by 0-1 in an interesting match.

DISCUSSION PREVENTED AT GENEVA

Geneva, Oct. 13. Germany is opposed to discussion of the resolution with regard to protection of minorities, including Jews.

Consequently, although all other States voted in favour of discussion, the matter will be dropped, as a single dissenting vote is sufficient to prevent discussion of any resolution.—Reuter.

KIANGSU
REORGANISATIONNEW CHAIRMAN INSTALLED

Shanghai, Oct. 13. Regarding the reorganisation of the Kiangsu Provincial Government, the newly appointed members, including the Chairman of the Kiangsu Provincial Government, Mr. Chen Ku-fu, were formally installed in their offices yesterday morning at a simple ceremony.

Mr. Chang Chi represented Marshal Chiang Kai-shek. The ceremony took place at the Government Headquarters at the seat of the Kiangsu Government, Chinkiang.

Addressing a gathering of over 1,000 officials, Mr. Chang Chi stressed the geographical importance of Kiangsu Province, because of the inclusion of both Shanghai and Nanking within its territories. The reorganisation of the Provincial Government was necessary through the appointment by the Government of the retiring Governor, General Ku Chu-tung, to head an anti-bandit suppression commission in North China and the appointment of Mr. Chen Ku-fu as a happy choice, because this experienced Kuomintang official has been attached with the Nanking Kuomintang executive Committee for a number of years.

Programmes for the furtherance of reconstruction and defence work in Kiangsu, because of its prominent position along the coast, were also outlined by the official speaker.

The retiring governor left for Shanghai by aeroplane yesterday afternoon after the ceremony. It will be recalled that Ku Chu-tung's resignation was brought about by strong criticism by numerous Kiangsu public bodies complaining to the Nanking Censor Yuan, which held an enquiry and suggested the government's reorganisation. Mr. Chen Ku-fu was Chiang Kai-shek's former private secretary.

FIRE SPRINKLER TESTSCHINA EMPORIUM EXPERIMENT

A thorough test of the Phoenix Independent Automatic Sprinkler installed in the China Emporium in accordance with the most modern fire resisting methods, was carried out this morning in the presence of the Hon. Mr. E. D. Wolfe, C.M.G., Inspector General of Police, the Hon. Mr. T. N. Chau of the Fire Insurance Association and others.

Mr. F. S. Nicholls, engineer of the Jardine Engineering Corporation, who installed the apparatus, was present with the manager, Mr. E. G. Wilkinson to assist at the tests.

The system is fed with a dual supply, a roof tank feeding the water in the case of the failure of the Government supply. The pressure varies from 40 pounds on the roof to an average of 90 pounds at street level. The apparatus is controlled by six Phoenix Wet Pipe Control valves and includes sprinkler outlets throughout the entire store which operate at a temperature of 165 degrees Fahrenheit. As the sprinklers commence to function the fire alarm bell is automatically set ringing.

Among those present were Supt. H. T. Brooks, Deputy Supt. J. C. FitzHenry, and Station Officer W. McIntosh Smith, all of the Fire Brigade; Messrs. R. H. Wild, G. S. Archbutt, A. C. Ellis, T. A. Mitchell, R. W. Gardner, W. C. Bailey, T. R. Macdonald, W. E. Hale and Lan Yuk-wan of the Fire Insurance Association.

GERMANY ANXIOUS TO PAY DEBTS

NATION DOING HER BEST.

Berlin, Oct. 8. "Despite all the difficulties faced by Germany's foreign trade, we are trying by every possible means to increase our possibilities for the transfer of foreign currencies to pay off credits falling due abroad," declared Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, Governor of the Reichsbank, in an interview with the official Wolff Agency yesterday. "Germany does not want to avoid her obligations," he said, "but, on the contrary, is anxious to pay all her debts." These statements come as a reply to comments in the foreign press on the current negotiations between Germany and Switzerland concerning full payment of German coupons held by Swiss creditors.

RADIO LINKS

HONGKONG SOON TO TALK TO LONDON

That arrangements have been concluded for linking Hongkong by radio telephone with Shanghai and Manila, and through those centres to Europe, has been disclosed by investigations made yesterday by a Press representative.

From an official source it is learned that the Hongkong Government has concluded arrangements with the Radio Corporation of America in Manila, and the Inland Telegraph Administration in Shanghai, for the establishment of a service direct with the Colony.

It was also disclosed that an official of the Radio Corporation visited Hongkong last week, and during his stay here, discussed the proposed service with the Government. Tentative charges for the service were also discussed.

An official of the Hongkong Radio Service is now in Shanghai, where similar discussions are taking place regarding the Shanghai-Hongkong service.

It is understood that the whole of the arrangements in Hongkong will be handled by the Government, in line with existing radio-telegraphic services.

The scheme, it is understood, now awaits the confirmation of the Secretary of State for the Colonies. As soon as this is forthcoming, arrangements will be proceeded with for the installation of the necessary equipment.

Converse With World. Both Shanghai and Manila are in radio telephonic communication with Europe, and could relay Hongkong. The Shanghai station routes all telephone conversations through the Telefunken station at Nauen, Berlin, which relays to other European centres. The Manila station routes through Schenectady, New York, which also relays to Europe.

When the service is inaugurated it will be possible for a resident of Hongkong to converse with ninety per cent. of the 30,000,000 telephone subscribers in the world. Practically every country in the world, including Australia, India, South Africa, Canada, New Zealand, America and all European countries, will be brought in touch with the Colony.

No definite information is yet available regarding the proposed scale of charges from Hongkong to Manila or Shanghai, but it is thought that they will be in the vicinity of $20. The scale of charges from Manila to various centres in the world is as follows:

	First 3 min.	Each 3 min.	Add. Min.
France with Monaco	$32.00	$10.00
Java	12.00	4.00
Portugal	35.25	11.65
Australia	68.42	21.00
Gt. Britain, Ireland	32.45	10.34
Germany	30.00	10.00
United States (avg.)	35.00	11.25
Norway	32.75	10.95

Presumably Hongkong will also connect up with the Macao telephone station, already in operation, and with the proposed Canton station.

SINGAPORE BANISHES
ARRESTEDIMPRISONMENT FOR SIX MONTHS

Chau Kam-shun, a returned banished, was sentenced to six months hard labour by Mr. Balfour, at the Central Magistracy this morning. Defendant was banished for ten years in May of this year.

He was arrested yesterday when he went to the Deportation office to get permission to go to Holland. Inspector Vincent said that the man had committed no crime in the Colony, but having been banished for life in Singapore, he was liable to be prosecuted in Hongkong.

The Colony, added the Inspector, would be a dumping ground for Singapore banisheds and bad characters if they were allowed here.

PHILADELPHIA
BUBBLE BURSTSWONDERFUL SCHEME FOR MAKING PRESIDENT DICTATOR

KHAKI SHIRTS FOR SALE

Philadelphia, Oct. 12.

Philadelphia does not know whether to smile or feel indignant at the trick played upon a number of politically-minded citizens by an astute shirt salesman.

Great schemes were outlined by the gentleman, a man named "Art" Smith, who formed a so-called Fascist organisation.

The installation of President Roosevelt as America's Dictator, was the first plank in his platform.

The revelations were made following the arrest of twenty-seven members of the "Khaki Shirts," the pseudo-Fascist organisation, who were awaiting orders from their self-styled Commander-in-Chief to march on Washington with a Fascist army of a million and a half men and install the President as Dictator.

The city was startled by the arrests, but the Chief of Police later announced that the great scheme was merely a shirt-selling racket by Smith, who advised the members to buy their Khaki Shirts from him instead of in the open market. Needless to say, Smith has disappeared.—Reuter.

FULL TEXT OF THE HISHIKARI DOCUMENTS

Japanese officials serving with Manchukuo occupied a very resolute position on this question. Councillor Tani declared that, in view of the successful progress of the negotiations to Tokyo, after two months of which the solution of the question of the exchange rate of the rouble was arrived at which should be considered a definite achievement for the Manchukuo side, and also considering that, until 1935, Japan will not be in the position to create conflicts on the continent, it is desirable to abstain from all careless measures, notwithstanding the absolute necessity of the assimilation of the C.E.R.

Tani further pointed out that the measures outlined by the Manchurian Ministry of Ways and Communications constitute a plan of joint Soviet-Manchurian administration of the railway, which is against the adopted course of purchase of the C.E.R.

The head of the general administration department, Endo, summing up the results of this conference, pointed out the desirability of a concrete solution of the question. The next conference was slated for the 7th of this month. (Signed) Hishikari.

PLAN ADOPTED.

The second document is the report of the Japanese Ambassador in Manchukuo to the Japanese Minister of Foreign Affairs, Tokyo, dated September 9, 1933. The text follows:—

"The conference which was arranged for the 7th was adjourned till September 9 and took place in the building of the State Council of Manchukuo. After a general debate, the conference discussed the plan of concrete actions worked out at a conference on September 8 attended by responsible officials of the Ministry of Ways and Communications. Finally, it was unanimously decided to put the proposed plan into effect, provided, however, the military authorities and our Embassy would send detailed reports to their respective ministries.

"Please telegraph urgently your opinion on all the above, and especially it is necessary to make a police raid on large scale, and to seize also prominent persons, and other general conference must be held, preliminary to that. Since it is difficult to put into practical effect the second part of the plan, the same will be done at a convenient opportunity, and within possible limits. Part 5 of the plan will be carried out after preliminary investigations." (Signed) Hishikari.

NEGOTIATIONS FOR PURCHASE.

Document No. 3 is another report of the Japanese Ambassador in Manchukuo to the Minister of Foreign Affairs, Tokyo, dated September 9, 1933. The text follows:—

"The following measures have been decided upon for the promotion of negotiations for the purchase of the C.E.R. and other organs of the railways for the collection of material relating to the illegal actions of Soviet employees of the railway, and to hand over this material for investigation to the Service of Exploitation and for the Police Administration. For this purpose: (a) The department of control should be allowed to collect such material and to conduct investigations. (b) Counselors of the board, manager, and chief inspectors should be brought to trial with corresponding material. (c) Upon bringing up the action the defendants should be examined, or, in case of necessity, arrested. (d) Proper attention must be paid that no false impression should be created about the extensiveness of the police raid. The raid will be planned on a small scale, with arrests of the minor officials. However, in the course of investigation, it might happen that the scale will be extended, and employees of greater importance involved.

CO-OPERATION.

All the above-mentioned will be carried out in co-operation by the Department of Justice, the Police, and the Department of Exploitation of the C.E.R.

"2.—The Manchukuo Ministry of Ways and Communications instructs the Chairman of the Railway Board that henceforward all actions and orders of the Manager of the railway must be sanctioned by the Assistant Manager. Violation of this rule must be regarded by the Chairman of the Board as an illegal action, and should be followed by suspension of unauthorised instructions, or by bringing the guilty party to trial. The Chairman should be instructed to notify the Board of the railway and all heads of departments with regard to the above. Furthermore, the Ministry, at the earliest opportunity, should instruct the Chairman of the Board with reference to the questions of tariff, the parity of railway employees, etc. (This should be realised by the Department of Administration of the railway).

CONTROL OF COMMUNISTS.

"3.—Investigation into occupation, residence, the purpose of arrival, and the passports of Soviet citizens residing in Harbin and in the C.E.R. zone; investigation in the Harbin commercial school and in the railway clubs along the whole C.E.R. line. Moreover, rigorous control of various other Communist organisations (to be carried out by the Police Department).

"4.—A check of regular payment of taxes and also of all activities of the Far-Eastern Bank and the C.E.R. consumers' co-operative society. Responsible representatives of these Soviet organisations should be summoned for this purpose by the department of control of the Ministry of Finance and of the Customs administration, and their books and documents should be audited (to be put into effect by the Ministry of Finance).

"6.—A plan should be worked out to compel the private creditors of the railway to file their claims against the railway, and then to distrain on the properties of the railway. A general conference should be convened preliminary to that, in order to discuss the course of negotiations with the creditors, and the latter's choice of property for distraintment (to be put into effect by the Department of Justice jointly with the administration department of the railway).

RELEASE OF WHITE GUARDS.

"6.—To accelerate the trial and the release of the Russian White Guards at present in prison (their cases not completely investigated) since the Soviet-Chinese conflict of 1929 (to be put into effect by the Department of Justice).

"7.—While putting all the above-mentioned into effect, particular attention should be paid to the following:—(a) To proceed rapidly with the realisation of the above measures; (b) to realise them apparently quite independently of the Tokyo negotiations, promoting them as domestic measures adopted by the Manchukuo Government; (c) to pay particular attention to the preservation of great secrecy and guarding the above measures against exposure; (d) the heads of the Police Department, Department of Justice, Administration, and other leading officials should arrive at Harbin from time to time in order to promote the uninterrupted realisation of this plan; (e) besides maintaining connection with all Manchukuo organisations in Harbin, close contact should be established with the Japanese military mission in Harbin, and, through them, with Japanese troops in North Manchukuo and with the Japanese gendarmerie; (f) reports on the realisation of all the above measures should be made to the Ministry of Interior of Manchukuo, and to other organs concerned. (Signed) Hishikari.

METHODS OF REALISATION.

Document No. 4 represents a report by the Japanese Consul-General in Harbin to the Japanese Ambassador in Manchukuo, dated September 19. The text follows:—

"To-day, on September 19, the head of the Police Department (Nagao), the head of the Justice Department (Kuritama), a representative of the Ministry of Ways and Communications (Morita), and other officials of Japanese and Manchurian organisations present in Harbin (with the exception of officials who are Manchurians), met in the premises of the Japanese military mission, discussed the methods of realisation of the steps mentioned in your telegram, and came to the conclusion that those should be realised by local means.

"(A)—With regard to clause 1 of your telegram, it was decided to arrest and imprison, in the middle of this month, six persons responsible for the evacuation of locomotives, and one guilty of illegitimate expenditure of railway funds: (a) head of the secret department, Kalina, (b) head of the locomotives depot, Lavrov; (c) head of the rolling-stock department, Ablov; (d) head of the finance department, Kubly (all persons enumerated are in Harbin); (e) head of the locomotive station, Slenko; (f) station-master of Manchuli, Abramenko; (g) station-master of Pogranichnaya, Katali.

"B.—The control department of the C.E.R. bring the enumerated transgressors to trial in court.

"C.—Persons residing in Manchuli and at the station of Pogranichnaya will be arrested by troops and border guards and sent to Harbin, where the general examination of all arrested will take place.

"D.—A Committee of Execution was created for the co-ordination of action.

CLAUSE THREE?

"E.—During the realisation of the above operations, all information should be given out only by the Police Department, and no individual or private interference by the press, or propaganda, should be permitted.

"F.—In the case of resistance or any destructive action during the arrests, arms may be used immediately.

"G.—Upon the completion of examinations, the control department of the C.E.R. will proceed with the second series of arrests.

"2.—Being afraid of missing opportune moments while asking instructions from the centre, in each individual case the details will be worked out locally.

"3.—Clause 3 of your telegram will be realised upon the realisation of clause 1 of the same telegram, between October 10 and 15. (Signed) Morishima.—Tass News Agency.

THE NEW DIVORCE LAW

"Mother—will be back next week with lots of pretty toys after Daddy has got his nice, new divorce."

FAMOUS WRITER

KATHLEEN NORRIS VISITS
THE COLONY

"I have lived all my life in California, and there it seems the natural thing to come to China. Of all the places I have visited, Hongkong is the most glorious. After I returned from Repulse Bay this afternoon I told the children that when I retired I was coming back there to live."

Kathleen Norris, most prolific and famous American authoress of to-day, had this to say about Hongkong when she was interviewed aboard the Lloyd Triestino liner Conte Rosso yesterday.

"Author of 'Walls of Gold,' 'Hildegard,' 'The Foolish Virgin' and other best sellers, Mrs. Norris came to the Far East to attend the wedding of her niece, Miss Margaret Hartigan, in Shanghai. Two other nieces, who accompanied her across the Pacific, acted as bridesmaids.

"I started writing books twenty-five years ago, when my first baby was born," she told a Press representative. "Since then I have published 57 books. Quite a few have been pictured in Hollywood, and before long you should see the Fox version of 'Walls of Gold,' my latest book. Sally Eilers will play the leading role.

"I very rarely bother the film people now. After all, if they change a story slightly, they probably have a good reason. I find it very much more successful to sell my rights, and let the film people tackle the story. There are already too many differences between Hollywood and the writers. I believe in letting them do the best they can.

"When my first two or three books were filmed, I used to be thoroughly annoyed at the alterations, but I've got past that. I rarely visit Hollywood during the actual filming of one of my books, but go there later. The time to suggest alterations is when the film is completed."

From Hongkong Mrs. Norris returns to California via Paris, London and New York. Her husband, who is also an author of note in California, is accompanying her on the trip.

SAVING INDUSTRY.

COTTON SPINNERS TRY TO END COMPETITION

London, Oct. 12. The movement among the spinners of Egyptian yarns to prevent cut-throat competition in the future is developing into a most important venture. The Bolton Master Cotton Spinners' Association is balloting on a scheme based on a new costing method.

It is believed that practically the whole of the Egyptian spinning section, wherein prices are already improving, will shortly be united to prevent "senseless price-cutting."

Representatives of the Master Cotton Spinners' Federation, headed by their president, Mr. W. H. Catterall, have already sent a deputation to Sir Horace Wilson and officials of the Board of Trade to discuss a scheme to restore prices to a more remunerative level. It is stated that the Federation is seeking the opinion of the Government as to the practicality of enforcing the wishes of the majority upon the minority.—Reuter.

FAR EAST CRISIS

FRENCH OBSERVERS DISTURBED

Paris, Oct. 12. The Japan-Soviet tension is causing a growing uneasiness here.

Le Temps, in an editorial to-day, states that there seems to be no prospect of an agreement being reached at present. If things continue as they are it may be most difficult to prevent an outbreak, the consequences of which would be most grave.

In the present state of international chaos, Japan has a unique opportunity of achieving her ambitions on the Asiatic continent, the paper says.

On the other hand, the paper adds, the Japanese, who are acute political realists, know that Great Britain and the United States would not remain indifferent if the existing Far East equilibrium were upset. A very vast and very complex Pacific problem lurks behind the Russo-Japanese question, says the editorial.

Le Journal des Debats gives as its opinion that a grave crisis is improbable, as neither party to the dispute could gain much by launching out into wild adventures.

"But you never can tell," the observer adds. "Far Eastern affairs are always rich in surprises."—Reuter.

U.S. EXPECTS NEW MONETARY PLAN.DISCLOSURE BY SUNDAY NIGHT?

New York, Oct. 12. Wall Street is most expectant to-day, owing to rumours abroad to the effect that President Roosevelt is making an announcement on the nation's monetary policy on Sunday night.

Although there have been at least a dozen previous rumours of the same sort, and the President has maintained a strict silence in the face of each, there seems to be more general anticipation and a more wide-spread belief that the moment of the President's disclosure is at hand.

The monetary scheme at present being discussed is said to include silver very vitally, although bimetallicism in America is considered an unlikely move.

Plans for the relief of 15,000,000 unemployed are rapidly going forward. They include an extensive scheme providing the needy with farm products. In this particular, a better tax is contemplated, which, it is expected, would yield U.S. $30,000,000 for the purchase of dairy products and meat.

Mr. William Woodin, Secretary of the Treasury, who went to Philadelphia to-day to listen to his own composition, played by the famous Symphony Orchestra there, promised guests at dinner before the concert that there would be very good news next week.

"I seem now to be able to see sunshine and happiness on the horizon," he declared.—Reuter.

CINEMA SCREENINGS

NOTES SUPPLIED BY THE THEATRES

Lee Tracy's fast-talking comedy has a remarkable new medium in "The Nutcracker," wherein he plays a debonair, shyster lawyer, an ambulance-chasing charlatan who harries a street car company with damage suits on cleverly faked evidence and injuries, dodges the traps of the Bar Association, and incidentally gives his audience an amazing insight into one of the legal rackets of the day.

"Hallelujah, I'm a Tramp"

Al Jolson was born in St. Petersburg, Russia, which is probably why he likes hot weather. The hotter the better. He is happiest working out doors when the California sun is blazing out of a cloudless sky, and perfectly content on the set when everyone else is registering complaints about the heat.

Smoking and gum-chewing are Al's chief dissolutions. When he is nervous waiting for the scene during those long waits when the lights are being adjusted and cameras set up, he munches on a raw turnip.

He seldom writes letters but is the host friend and patron of the telephone and telegraph companies. His telegrams usually run into several pages and he talks long distance from Hollywood to New York or vice versa, by the hour. He calls Mrs. Jolson every day.

He has a rather original idea that he should do anything for himself that he can let some one else do, if it will help them. For instance he never shaves himself "because that's why we have barbers." He is playing in the next picture at the King's Theatre, starting on Sunday.

"Sunshine Susie"

"Sunshine Susie" with Renato Muller and Jack Hulbert in the leading roles will be screened at the Oriental Theatre to-day and Saturday. Those admirers of the art of Jack Hulbert will applaud this clever actor's latest characterization in "Sunshine Susie," the Gainsborough—ideal musical-comedy romance, the presentation of which our patrons are very soon to enjoy.

Hulbert has the role of a sort of glorified commissionaire in a Viennese bank. He has "nerve," enterprise, authority. He likewise possesses musical leanings as the conductor of a society which discourses music of sorts in the local beer-garden. Indeed he is the musical society's president, vice-president, treasurer, secretary and conductor! It is as conductor that this inimitable comedian really shines. His antics in the beer-garden, his quaint mannerisms with his topknoted, frock-coated choir, his dancing and his inimitable antics infuse into "Sunshine Susie" veritable tornadoes of laughter.

Susie herself, in the person of the lovely Renato Muller, is likely to be remembered not only for the "Happy" song which runs its story, but for a personality that combines charm with simplicity. Her diction is perfect and her singing delightful.

"Pick Up"

Vina Delmar's "Pick Up," published originally as a short story, has been produced in film by B. F. Seidberg for Paramount under the same title, and comes on Sunday to the Queen's Theatre with Sylvia Sydney and George Raft in leading roles.

Like "Bad Girl" and other of Miss Delmar's stories, "Pick Up" centres around a boy and girl from the streets of the city, who are baffled about by social and economic laws, but ultimately find happiness in each other's arms.

"Dixiana"

With the showing of "Dixiana" at the Oriental Theatre on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, the talking screen takes a new step forward in its march to provide and encompass variety entertainment. Here is the first screen drama with music not operative, not operative—but a dramatic story. Bobo Daniels, whose magnificent and surprising talents as a soprano gratified in "Rio Rita," surpasses that achievement with one of the most colourful singing roles ever seen on the screen.

Altogether Radio Pictures has not stinted in entering into such players as Johnny Howard, Dorothy Lee, Joseph Cawthorn and Ralf Haroldo assist Wheeler and Woolsey to make "Dixiana" grand fun and rousing drama.

FOR THE LOVE OF EVE

Lady tenderly lifted delicate linens and bits of lace.
"There!" she said triumphantly when she had found what she sought. "I made this when I was only 16. It's a bedspread with two pillow shams."
They lead the spider-web lace over a mahogany table and Eve cried aloud, "Oh, it's too beautiful and too delicate for a bedspread! It should be used for a table cover. It's just too beautiful! But are you sure you want me to have it?"
"Yes," said Aunt Sophronia. "I've been saving it for Dick. I wasn't quite sure, though, what kind of a wife he'd pick. You know some of these young folks only appreciate what comes from a department store."
"Oh, I love it!" Eve assured her. "Well, at last I'll see it in use," said Aunt Sophronia. "Now that you have come to settle in these parts maybe I'll get up there for a little visit."
"We'd love to have you," Dick interposed hastily, "but you see I live at a boarding house and Eve is just spending her vacation with me."
Eve blushed before the stony gaze of Aunt Sophronia. Finally the old lady said quite candidly, "What's the matter? Ain't your husband earning enough?"
All the way home Eve was silent. Dick had announced so casually that she was there for only two weeks. She was going back of course but she wanted him to show concern about it. Was he tired of her already? Eve pondered thus as they rode along through the sweet-smelling spring countryside. She was uncomfortable and ill at ease.

BRIDGE

By W. E. McKenney

Here is a question often asked me by beginners at contract bridge: "What should I do when my partner has opened the bidding and the opponents bid the suit that I had planned to bid?"
The answer is simple—you should double. That is the best way of conveying this information to your partner.
Let me take up the following hand with you. While it is not a difficult hand to play, it presents several interesting angles.

The Bidding

South, the dealer, should open the contracting with one club. Some players, with West's hand would overcall with one spade. If they do, North should double, as this is his best suit. As a matter of fact, if West had passed, North would have responded with one spade.
East, realizing that his partner has been trapped, should bid two hearts and South should pass.
North reasons as follows—South, his partner, has made an original bid; he has heard the spade double, and when the opponents overcalled with hearts, he was unable to double hearts. He must have some strength in hearts or spades, and in addition he should have strength in diamonds to make the original bid.
While it is not generally good policy to make a constructive no trump bid with a singleton in your partner's suit, in this case that be-

♠ 10-7-5-3-2	♠ J-6
♥ K-Q-5	♥ 9-7-3
♦ A-10-5-5	♦ K-8
♣ 6	♣ 9-8-2
♠ A-Q-8-4	♠ K-9
♥ B-4-2	♥ A-6
♦ 7-2	♦ Q-9-4-3
♣ K-10-4-3	♣ A-Q-J-7-5

comes the best bid because you have both hearts and spades stopped. Therefore North should bid two no trump and South will go to three no trump.

The Play

The jack of hearts is East's opening, which is won by the ace in dummy. With four diamonds to the ace in one hand and four to the queen in the other, the proper play is a small diamond to the ace. The eight dropping from East warns the declarer that the next card from East will be an honour. A small diamond is returned and East wins with the king.

East continues with a heart, which North wins with the queen. He now runs two diamonds, retaining the lead in his own hand. West discards a spade and a club. Declarer then leads the king of hearts and then a small club, fessing the Jack West winning with the king. The declarer is bound to make his contract as he has three good club tricks. West's best play is to return a club, and in this manner he will make two spade tricks.

SIR FREDERICK WHYTE'S APPOINTMENT

AGAIN ADVISER TO NANKING

Washington, Oct. 12.

It is announced by the Chinese Legation that Sir Frederick Whyte has accepted an appointment as Adviser to the Chinese National Government.

He held a similar appointment from 1929 to 1932.

Sir Frederick has been popular in Chinese circles ever since the international conference held in Honolulu in 1925 to consider questions relating to the Pacific.

MONTHS IN CHINA

There he found favour with the delegates of the Chinese National Government, as he took a more favourable view of their cause than was generally held in Europe and America. In 1927 he came to China and spent some months here, acting, it is rumoured, as an observer for Sir Austen Chamberlain, then Britain's Foreign Minister.

The Chinese Nationalists were strongly impressed by Sir Frederick Whyte's work in India and his sympathy with Nationalism. One section proposed him for the post of Inspector-General of Customs. This proposal was not adopted, but in March 1929, when he was again in China, it was announced that he had been appointed honorary adviser to the Chinese Government. He is an hon. LL.D.

ALLEGED TRAFFICKING IN WOMEN

Girls Harboured For Immoral Purposes

Before Mr. Balfour, at the Central Police Court this morning, Lam Ngow, a widow, was charged by Inspector Elston with trafficking in women, and with harbouring two girls for the purpose of prostitution.

Inspector Elston said that defendant was arrested on board the s.s. Chee Nam bound for Amoy on October 10. With her were five girls, three of whom admitted they were prostitutes. He interrogated the girls, and two admitted they were going to live in a brothel in Amoy.

Lam Lin-hoi, aged 17, said that her mother asked her to accompany defendant to Amoy to earn money as a prostitute. She was introduced to defendant in Nam Hai. All the money received by her was ordered to be given to defendant, who was to have it sent back to her mother.

Hearing at this stage was adjourned until this afternoon.

PROSPEROUS INDUSTRY

THE BRITISH MOTOR CAR

FINE DISPLAY AT OLYMPIA

London, Oct. 12.

Prince George to-day opened the 27th International Motor Show at Olympia, and in company with King Alfonso, made a tour of inspection of the 400 cars on exhibition.

Cars from five European continental countries, and Canada, and United States are exhibited, but British cars predominate. Of the fifty different makes shown 29 are British, 18 continental and eight American.

The Show represents probably the widest range of cars ever brought together, and affords a comprehensive survey of the latest developments which mark a definite advance in engineering, practice and coachwork design. The prices are from 100 guineas to over £3,000.

PROSPEROUS & PROGRESSIVE.

The British motor industry has now become one of most prosperous and progressive of the major industries, and Prince George congratulated the manufacturers on the wonderful recovery achieved not only in the home market, but in an expanding degree in markets overseas.

To meet the growing home demand, production in the last twelve months has increased by 20 per cent, and the industry's export trade increased by 68 per cent. —British Wireless.
